

GERMANY TO BEG WORLD AID

HARDING PLANS
20 SPEECHES ON WORLD COURTWill Urge Tribunal
Before Public.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., March 5.—(Special.)—The earnestness with which President Harding adheres to his declaration that the United States should be represented on the court of international justice created by the league of nations was asserted today in a letter made public at the White House written by Mr. Harding to Earl D. Broom, lieutenant governor of Ohio. Publication of this letter immediately after adjournment of congress and the failure of the senate to act upon the President's request for authority to name an American member of the international court signaled the intention of the President to exert all the influence he can upon the country in behalf of his proposal during the long legislative vacation.

Mr. Harding is expected to take the stump in support of the world court. During the summer and fall he is expected to make twenty addresses on the subject. Secretary Hughes also may address the public in support of the plan.

Believes Public Wants It.
The President confidently believes that the great majority of the people are with him in his conviction that the United States should participate in the international court and he promises to leave no stone unturned to convince the new senate that his favorable response to his request should be promptly granted.

The President's letter was in response to a resolution adopted by the senate of Ohio endorsing the policy of participation.

"I wish to tell you, and through my official capacity to inform the members of the Ohio senate," President Harding wrote, "of the special satisfaction it has given me to receive the testimony of approval and of valuable support from a body of which I was for a long time a member. I feel that the education of our country to the program and purposes of the court of international justice would represent a long and important step toward the assumption of those proper and mutually self-referential to international affairs which should be borne by each country as our own. The recommendation was not put forward without the most thorough and mature deliberation.

Substitute for Arms.
"Those who at this time are impressed with the direction of the international relations of our country have been convinced that this move not only would represent the wise way for our own people, but would be an emphatic testimony of our purpose to encourage every feasible program for establishing the rule of law and the rule of power in this world. The whole story of civilization has been the story of the efforts to substitute the domination of justice for law for armed might.

"I look upon the establishment of a court of international justice, with jurisdiction that has been given to it as one of the greatest advances that world society has made toward conditions in which at last the rule of law may be substituted for the rule of force. It looks to the settlement of issues before they become dangerous; it contemplates the elimination of the causes of conflict and war. Feeling that I cannot but believe that our own country should be among the most devoted adherents to such a program."

NEARLY 3,000
COPS MAY GO
ON DIVE DUTYActs After McKinley
Renews Inquiry.

Chief of Police Fitzmorris ordered his commanding officers last night to station patrolmen in shifts of two men each at the front and rear doors of disorderly houses. The chief's order, clamping the lid on the underworld with a vengeance unknown to local police history, came less than four hours after Chief Justice McKinley of the Criminal court indicated that the March grand jury will be asked to conduct a new investigation—the third in the last three months. The January and February grand juries announced that the evidence placed before them was insufficient to warrant indictments.

Force of 3,000 Needed.

On the theory of Attorney Harry Smoot, counsel for the Juvenile Protective association, that there are 500 disorderly places in Chicago, 3,000 patrolmen will be necessary to enforce the order, working in shifts of 1,000 men each. The chief's order directs that a twenty-four hour watch be kept. There are approximately 4,513 patrolmen on the police force. If the figures of Attorney Smoot, who has been a leading figure in the two previous vice inquiries are correct, it will take nearly two-thirds of the men patrolling the streets and alleys of Chicago to enforce the drastic order.

Refuses to Be "Broken."

He replied that "the order speaks for itself" and refused all further comment. At his office, however, it was said the order had been the result of several conferences and that it was issued to save the chief and the department. It was asserted by the chief's counselors that "many chiefs have been broken on the rocks of prostitution and gambling" and that "Fitzmorris has decided to give the reformers what they insist on having."

The chief has declared repeatedly while the two previous grand juries have been investigating and while rumors were in circulation that the chief and several captains were to be indicted, that "the town is fairly clean." He often added that "it is as clean as it can be made without turning the whole police force loose on vice and letting the criminals run wild."

He took the position that what dives were operating were "smoking" and that the suppression of these places was of lesser importance than the struggle to keep robbery, burglary, and automobile stealing at the low ebb reported by the crime commission.

Statement by McKinley.
Chief Justice McKinley made the following comment on the chief's action last night:

"If the chief sees fit to assign all 4,500 patrolmen to guard one flat, that is his responsibility. No one can interfere with him in the placing of his men.

"If crime becomes rampant as the result of his order the public will still hold him responsible for the assignment of his men and for the policing of this city."

"If he sees fit to station all his men in Park Ridge to guard a town pump it is his responsibility.

"On the other hand, if it is the chief's intention to cooperate in a sane and sensible manner with the courts and the better element of the city to stamp out the demerit which are the incubators of criminals, he deserves and should receive the commendation of the public."

Fear Crime Revival.
The chief's order, which crime authorities predict, will shoot the crime curves skyward if it remains in effect as long as a week, follows:

"To commanding officers:
"Where complaints are received that prostitution or disorderly houses exist in your district and information develops that there is ground for these complaints or that they are based upon fact, in addition to taking all the steps necessary to remedy conditions complained of, you will station a man at

JUDGE ALSCHULER
MARRIES AT 63;
NOTED AS ARBITER

Judge Samuel Alschuler of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals and Miss Ella Kahn, daughter of Felix Kahn, wealthy clothing manufacturer, were married last night by Rabbi Felix Stoltz at the home of the bride's parents, 4710 Grand boulevard.

Alschuler is a bachelor. He lives in Aurora and is 63 years old. He was appointed to the federal bench to succeed the late Federal Judge Peter S. Grosscup, and achieved national fame as an arbitrator in a series of labor disputes, notably the controversy between the packing industries and their employees.

Prominent for years as a Democratic politician, Judge Alschuler, who lived in Aurora, was candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1908 and 1912. In 1915 the then governor, Edward F. Dunne, appointed Alschuler as a member of the Illinois waterways commission. Only recently he resigned as a member of the federal coal commission, to which he was appointed by President Harding.

CAMERAS WATCH
'MAN SPIDER' DIEPlunges 10 Stories Before
20,000 Spectators.

New York, March 5.—With a Broadway crowd standing agape and movie machine clicking, Harry F. Young, self-styled "spider," plunged ten stories to his death today while attempting to scale the side of the Hotel Martineau.

Women fainted and disorder ensued. Police reserves had to be called before the body could be removed and traffic restated.

Among those who crowded Greeley square, watching the performer at his stunt, was his wife.

20,000 Watch Him Climb.

The square was packed when Young appeared. Clinging to points of vantage on the 33rd street elevated station were dozens of cameramen. Windows of every skyscraper in the vicinity were filled with men and women, laughing and talking excitedly as Young began his climb. The police estimated the crowd at 20,000.

Young wore a white shirt, duck trousers and white shoes, which served to outline his figure against the drab wall. On his back hung a sign reading "Safety Last"—for Young was an incorporator of the "Safety Last society," formed last week by human flies, parachute jumpers and folk of adventurous liking, whose occupation caused them to be listed by insurance companies as "bad risks."

PENSDEATHDIARY
IN 10 MILE WALK
ON POISON DOSE

Hammond, La., March 5.—[Special.]

After swallowing thirty grains of arsenic, following his rejection by a girl whom he refuses to name, G. Harry Devine, 20, staggered ten miles through the moonlight Sunday night from Tikfaw to Hammond, writing on the way his "diary of death," recording his emotions every quarter mile.

The clear handwriting grew dim as he went on. One of the last lines was, "Even dying is monotonous."

Found unconscious here, he was revived and may recover. Physicians say two grains of arsenic would have killed him, but the excessive amount probably saved his life.

Here are some of the jottings in his diary:
"I don't feel sick. Wonder if death will relieve me?"
"I am growing ill."
"I feel I am dying, but I have no regrets."

"I am passing a cemetery. Maybe they will bring me back here tomorrow."
"I am passing the fair grounds, where I danced with her last month."
"I guess I'm a fool, but I could not be a fool about anything better on earth or in heaven than her."

Judge to Ask
Night Court
Be Extended

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Chicago's night court, now in its second week, has so impressed the judges who have sat in it that they are urging an extension of hours.

Judge Arnold Heap, who went on the bench last night for his week, will urge upon Chief Justice Harry Olson, who is to attend the court session tonight, that instead of closing up shop at 11 o'clock when the police jails are beginning to fill up the court should operate from 9 p. m. until 2 or 4 o'clock a. m. Also the recommendation will be made that the court should run Sundays and holidays instead of being open week nights only.

Haas Seeks Idea.

Judge John Haas, who presided over the nocturnal judiciary for the first week, is strong for the change. Both he and Judge Heap declare that the need of an open courtroom is greatest after 10 or 11 o'clock at night, especially on Saturdays, for it is at that time that the vermin infested basements begin to choke up with prisoners as the patrol wagons come in after raids.

Judge Heap, who also sat in the two night courts that Chicago had years ago, in taking up his week's turn last night, declared that the court has already proved itself a success. In the first week, under Judge Haas, 104 cases were disposed of. In most of the cases it meant the escape of at least one night in a horribly crowded cell.

Doesn't Interfere with Police.

It did not interfere in the slightest with the work of the police in stamping down crime, but the night court a steady stream. Moonshiners predominated. The majority of the cases were from the black belt. Towards the end of a session a scholarly looking man with two days' growth of beard appeared at the bar. He was accused by a downtown drug store of shoplifting. He had made off with a bottle of cough mixture and two packages of hair tonic. Henry Allen was his name and he still looked dazed.

Why He Drinks.

"I was very, very drunk," he told the court. "I don't remember taking that stuff. I didn't know I had done it. Who in his senses would ever try to steal hair tonic?"

"Why do you drink?" asked Judge Heap.

"Because I'm foolish," said the prisoner. "I'd be all right if I could leave this cursed liquor alone."

The court put him on six months parole.

Breath Convicts Him.

Clay Smith, colored, a dining car waiter, was brought in by his wife, who charged that after sixteen years of married life Smith now celebrates payday by riding the white mule.

"I'm not a drinking man," protested the defendant.

"His breath reeks with gin," reported a lawyer.

"Your breath convicts you," said the court. "Besides we have no use for a man who strikes a woman. Twenty-five and costs."

Will Oppose Demand for War.

He will then declare he will never seek the goal demanded by the Nationalist party. He will flatly refuse to entertain the Nationalist demands that diplomatic relations be broken off with France, as such action would give rise to the possibility of a new war. He will declare that Germany will never take up arms in this fight and will warn all hot head Nationalists against instigating armed resistance.

Herr Stresemann, leader of the People's party, who will follow Dr. Cuno, will make a more direct offer of the German terms. He will declare that his party is ready to organize a Franco-German trust of big industries if France will repair the wrongs it has done in the Ruhr. It is interesting to note that such a trust was proposed by the French, with their industries holding 20 per cent of the stock of the Ruhr industries, before they proceeded with the occupation.

DUSSELDORF, March 5.—One German was killed, one wounded, and one captured at Westerhold, when French soldiers discovered them tampering with a railroad switch.

(Copyright, 1923, By The Chicago Tribune.)

BERLIN, March 5.—The German cabinet tonight approved the speech in which Chancellor Cuno tomorrow will appeal for the intervention of all disinterested nations to make possible negotiations for the settlement of the Ruhr question. The chancellor will address the reichstag, which was called in special session following the French seizure of Mannheim, Karlsruhe, and Darmstadt.

After discussions lasting until a late hour tonight the cabinet consented to allow Herr Cuno to declare that Germany is still ready to fulfill its reparations obligations to the best of its ability, but only under certain conditions.

The chancellor will insist that Germany's representatives enter a parity on a basis of complete equality. He will also demand that the Ruhr be evacuated by the French before the Germans appear at a council table.

May Open Path to Negotiations.

From the highest official source Tribune is able to give the gist of the address which will outline the foreign policy of the present German government and which may lead to a diplomatic settlement of the Ruhr dispute.

Herr Cuno will open his address with a strong protest against further occupation of German territory and against the death penalty with which the French have threatened railway workers. He will state that the French seizures constitute a violation of the nation's rights under the Versailles treaty and he will appeal to all nations to become conscious of their moral duties and not to allow such trappings upon international rights. He will then develop the lines of the future German policy and point out the new political situation in Europe.

He will state that new French pressure will provoke German counter measures for increased passive resistance, and then he will launch into the most important paragraphs in which he will give the conditions under which Germany will be willing to approach a council table. The chancellor will attempt to prove the honest determination of Germany to make reparations for war damages and to aid in the reconstruction of Europe.

Will Oppose Demand for War.

He will then declare he will never seek the goal demanded by the Nationalist party. He will flatly refuse to entertain the Nationalist demands that diplomatic relations be broken off with France, as such action would give rise to the possibility of a new war. He will declare that Germany will never take up arms in this fight and will warn all hot head Nationalists against instigating armed resistance.

Herr Stresemann, leader of the People's party, who will follow Dr. Cuno, will make a more direct offer of the German terms. He will declare that his party is ready to organize a Franco-German trust of big industries if France will repair the wrongs it has done in the Ruhr. It is interesting to note that such a trust was proposed by the French, with their industries holding 20 per cent of the stock of the Ruhr industries, before they proceeded with the occupation.

party. Herr Wels, the Socialist leader, will probably speak, but Foreign Minister von Rosenberg will not say anything until Wednesday.

Makes Separate Deliveries to Italy. The German government refused to send a representative to today's conference of the reparations commission in Paris to negotiate for the delivery of nitrogen to Italy, Belgium, and France.

"We have offered and we are delivering nitrogen and chemicals to Italy, which is not participating in the invasion of the Ruhr, but it is useless to send a representative to Paris, since we cannot deliver nitrogen to France and Belgium, who broke the peace," the German note said.

French Move Up Troops.

Extensive movements of French troops are reported by TASS news correspondents at Elberfeld, Darmstadt, and Darmstadt. Since 5 o'clock this morning French troops have practically invaded the towns and cities which lie on the edge of the Ruhr basin and are taking up positions several miles eastward of their former outposts.

Troops have been stationed to the north, south, and west of Elberfeld for several weeks, but tonight they are approaching the town from the north-east and southeast. Several large bodies are operating near Darmstadt. The railway station at Griseheim was occupied this evening. The railway men there immediately stopped work, halting Frankfurt-Griseheim trains.

German circles believe that these movements are in preparation for an immediate advance should the negotiators accept the Nationalists' motion to break off diplomatic relations with France.

Will Restamp German Money.

Financial circles in Berlin have been informed that the German government is planning to replace immediately German money by a new Rhine currency on a thaler basis. All German money in the vicinity of the Rhine is being changed to the new currency. The new money will be printed as fast as plates can be prepared to replace the stamped over money.

BIG PLANTS CLOSE

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

DUSSELDORF, March 5.—[By courier to Cologne.]—Coal shortages have forced the great anthracite dye works at Hoechst, between Frankfurt and Mayence to close down. Two ships filled with English coal billed to this plant are lying in Hoechst harbor, but the management refuses to pay the French 13,000,000 marks in transport. Thousands of idle workers in Hoechst are receiving 75 per cent of their wages by their employers.

It is reported from German sources that the textile industry of Mayence is working four days and the potteries of Baden three days a week. The depreciation of the mark has compelled the cancellation of contracts, particularly with Spain and South America, causing unemployment elsewhere.

In the occupied territory the manufacture of cigars and cigarettes is virtually at a standstill because of the determination of Germany not to pay taxes to French revenue agents.

Many Miners Are Idle.

A large number of miners have been laid off in the Ruhr, and Polish workers are being discriminated against. There are 180,000 Poles in the district. Delegations from them have appealed to the French officials in Recklinghausen and Bochum.

The French are reported to be advancing again into Germany. They are massed southeast of Elberfeld-Barmen and are reported to have taken Remscheid and Wuppertal.

They also have advanced on Griseheim, on the Strasbourg-Darmstadt-Frankfurt railway. Griseheim is midway between Darmstadt and the Rhine.

The February review of the Prussian chamber of commerce reports no change in the economic situation, but admits this may be expected to become worse during March. The Rhine Elbe Union has cut its vast regular dividends 20 per cent, but the German press announces that stock holders received a special dividend of 5,000 per cent Thursday.

A plant at Griseheim making fireproof building materials, which had refused to deliver to customers in France and Belgium, was occupied long enough today for the French soldiers to load sixty freight cars, which were hauled away.

SWEDISH BISHOP SCORES FRANCE'S SEIZURE OF RUHR

Like German Invasion of Belgium, He Says.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

STOCKHOLM, March 5.—[Tribune Radio.]—A sensation was caused at the first session of the Scandinavian and Baltic church conference here when Archbishop Soderblom of Sweden asserted the French action in the Ruhr will fill the neutral world with the same abhorrence as did the German occupation of Belgium in 1914. He praised Germany's policy of nonresistance.

Archbishop Soderblom, in addressing the congress, which was attended by Norwegian, Danish, Finnish, Lettish, and Estonian archbishops, pleaded for Christianity in politics instead of hatred. He began by recounting the neutral reaction to the German crimes in Belgium.

"The so-called peace treaty following the war is a continuation of the blockade which caused millions of children in east and central Europe to suffer from cold and hunger," he said.

"Terror Inflicted on Germany."

In carrying out the requirements of the treaty, continued the archbishop, the entente has created a situation in Germany "which amounts to a terror reign worse than in Russia under the czar."

"The conflict is uneven," the archbishop added, "because one side is powerful and is armed to the teeth, while the other side is helpless and is not equipped. Food for old, the sick, and children is taken by the soldiers."

"We do not congratulate the victors of the Ruhr. They must have our pity as we pity those sustaining these tortures."

Life in Europe Brutalized.

"New curses may follow. The seed of hatred has been sown. Life is becoming brutalized in Europe. Europe's middle classes, which furthered culture and civilization, are becoming extinct. There are thousands in Europe who do not want war and who are not living in bitterness, but that is not the feeling of the whole people. All Europe is seething. Nothing has been done to bring peace."

U. S. Rhine Debt Collector Gets Lunch, but No Money

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, March 5.—A $255,000,000 luncheon was celebrated at Quai d'Orsay today. Premier Poincare entertained Elliot Wadsworth and his wife. Mr. Wadsworth is here to try to collect the American Rhine army's costs.

Mr. Wadsworth held a second conference with the delegates of the allied governments. After three hours of further discussion every one seemed extremely dubious as to how Uncle Sam was to be repaid.

Mr. Wadsworth, accompanied by Counselor Whitcomb of the American embassy, hobnobbed with Finance Minister Lesteysie, War Minister Maginot, Director of the Foreign Office Peretti Dellicour, at a nine course luncheon, and it is reported that the authorities are contemplating decorating him with the legion of honor.

Wadsworth Is Silent.

"The problem seems to resolve itself into one of two alternatives," said Sir John Bradbury, British representative, who is representing the British government at the conference. "Either the United States must arrange for the allies to try to collect the money direct from Germany, or else the United States must arrange for the allied governments to have the reparations commission try to collect the amount."

Mr. Wadsworth refused to make a statement, referring newspaper men to a communiqué, explaining that every one was bound to the strictest secrecy, but the allied delegates spoke more freely.

The French pointed out that if the United States handed the collection work to the reparations commission, then America should associate itself in the measures to make Germany pay—for example, the Ruhr occupation, which is aimed to force the execution of the reparations payments. If America indorses the allies' military measures to enforce payment, it must support the allies' insistence that Germany defray the cost of these military measures, it was stated.

U. S. Wants Cash.

Mr. Wadsworth told the allies' representatives that the United States wants to be repaid in cash for the gold dollars expended for maintaining the Coblenz garrison, and not coal or timber from Germany, but he did not indicate where the allies were to dig up 1,000,000,000 gold marks to hand over in behalf of Germany.

"To obtain a breathing spell the allies decided that the Belgian delegate should proceed to Brussels to ascertain whether the government insists on the priority granted Belgium at the armistice. The next meeting is scheduled for Saturday."

The Belgian priority is merely a quibble between Great Britain and France, as the Brussels government already has been advanced the amount in priority, chiefly from London, and the cash payments since received from Berlin have been turned over to the lenders.

ITALIAN PARLEY WITH JUGOSLAVS HALTED BY ROW

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, March 5.—Father Neptune's pranks of a century ago broke up the Italo-Jugo-Slav conference at Abbaia today.

The disputed Fiume question, near a settlement by the treaty of Santa Margherita, struck a new snag when the Italian and Jugo-Slav delegates at Abbaia could not agree on the important Adriatic delta port of Baros.

The Italians interpret the Santa Margherita treaty as saying that only those parts of the Fiume territory which have belonged to Austria since the time of Empress Maria Theresa should be given to Jugo-Slavia. Now the Italians say that Port Baros, which was formed by mud washed up the Adriatic at the river mouth, did not exist at the time of Empress Maria Theresa and therefore should not be considered part of the territory to be given up.

WAR VET'S LUCK SO BAD IT CHEATS HIM OF DEATH

Robert Wood, 1511 West Monroe street, an ex-soldier, decided to die. His wife had died, a second love affair went wrong; he was out of luck. He leaped into the Lincoln park lagoon at the south end. The water was six inches deep. He jumped from the jackknife bridge, but couldn't sink. Policemen took him to a hospital.

WOMAN BATTLES GEM BANDIT STATE ST. C.

Routs Thieves and Leads Loop Pur

Diamond robbers, pursued by a woman victim, threw State an uproar yesterday afternoon with revolvers waving, crowds of women shoppers out of Carson, Pile Scott, finale being the spectacular one by a male pedestrian.

The robbery itself, of $25,000 from A. Masover & Co., of the Mentor building at Monroe street, was thrilling the exploits of Mrs. Beatrice Chase.

The chase started from the busy street at midday. A crowd of hundreds of women were hurrying for shelter as the men drew Bernard's Louis Schlieb, 15 years old, the street had just passed into Mrs. Masover's side breaking her hold on his Masover yelled, "Stop, this man is a thief!"

Mrs. Masover, 40, of Hyde Park boulevard, joined in the chase after the two bandits had terrorized the store patrons. One was a grown man, but the women called to the other entering an automobile.

George F. Klimowicz, 108 avenue, was at the wheel when he told him to "drive like the phasing his command with the revolver under Klimowicz's arm jam prevented starting, and Bernard was a fine board.

Schlieb turned the revolver then kicked him in the stomach and to the street. Bernard like a whirlwind. He the machine on top of Schlieb the revolver hand to one threw Schlieb into the street self on top of the desperate Traffic Policemen James Frank Mourke were on hand, and the struggle was over. Only eighteen were found on the captive, a push button opening a back of Mrs. Masover's reach of her finger, and she unnoted. The door opened jumped backward, and the burst. Hate was then the of the boys. They snatched lots of uncut stones and a and hurried to the elevator.

Mrs. Masover commanded ward elevator and arrived ground floor as the two were out of the other elevator, pickup and determined, but off her feet as she dared the Leads Loop Pursuit.

Diamond robbers, pursued by their woman victim, threw State street into uproar yesterday afternoon as she, with revolver waving, broke through crowds of women shoppers, into and out of Carson, Pirie Scott & Co., the finale being the spectacular capture of one by a male pedestrian.

The robbery itself, of $25,000 in gems from A. Massover & Co., eleventh floor of the Mentor building at State and Monroe streets, was thrilling enough, the exploits of Mrs. Beatrice Massover, the proprietor of the jewelry store, were doubly so, but the laurels went to Charles A. Bernard, 1606 South Clifton Park avenue, who twice dared the young robber's revolver and dragged him from an automobile where he had the pistol at the chauffeur's head.

Chase Starts Crowd.

The cry, "Stop, thief!" at the city's busiest corner at mid-afternoon, the screams of hundreds of women, and the surging for shelter of many of the men drew Bernard's attention. Louis Schlieb, 18 years old, 1256 West 72d street, had just pushed his revolver into Mrs. Massover's side, thereby breaking her hold on his coat. Mrs. Massover yelled, "Stop, thief!"

Mrs. James Monroe, 2338 Madison street, and Mrs. T. H. Allison, 1135 Hyde Park boulevard, joined with her in the chase after the two youthful bandits had terrorized the department store patrons. One was lost in the crowd, but the women called attention to the other entering an automobile.

George F. Kilmorey, 10800 Indiana avenue, was at the wheel when Schlieb told him to "drive like the devil," emphasizing his command with a flourish of the revolver under Kilmorey's nose. A traffic jam prevented immediate starting, and Bernard was on the running board.

Schlieb turned the revolver on him, then kicked him in the stomach, knocking him to the street. Bernard came back like a whirlwind. He leaped into the machine on top of Schlieb and held the revolver hand to one side as he threw Schlieb into the street and himself on top of the desperate boy.

Traffic policemen James Boyle and Frank Moutre were on hand at this juncture, and the struggle to escape was over. Only eighteen small rings were found on the captive, his "pal" having taken the diamonds.

How the Robbery Occurred.

The affair started in this way: Mrs. Massover, Philip Petacque, an accountant employed by her, and C. W. Cisewski, a customer, were in the jewelry concern's office when the command, "Hands up," came from the two boys who had just entered. They took a $600 ring from Cisewski.

A push button opening a door in back of Mrs. Massover was within reach of her finger, and she pushed it, unnoted. The door opened, she jumped backward, and the door swung shut. Haste was then the watchword of the boys. They snatched two wallets of uncut stones and a tray of rings and hurried to the elevator.

Mrs. Massover commanded an upward elevator and arrived at the ground floor as the two were stepping out of the other elevator. She was plucky and determined, but was pushed off her feet as she dared the revolver.

Second Robber Arrested.

The robber who escaped was arrested early this morning by Lieut. Michael Brady and his squad from the detective bureau. He is George P. McKean, and lives at 820 East 51st street, but was arrested at 1821 Wabash avenue where he was traced by a telephone call to the 51st street address. He confessed and surrendered $5,000 worth of the stolen diamonds. Sherman and Jack Davis, also living at the Wabash avenue address were held for questioning.

When Brady was assigned to the case he recalled having arrested Schlieb several years ago for theft. He learned Schlieb and McKean were thugs and McKean's arrest followed.

A LESSON IN PICTURES BY THE Y. W. C. A.

Two hundred young women who attended the "Charm school" conducted by the Young Women's Christian association at 59 East Monroe street last night learned many lessons in etiquette and propriety. One is illustrated by Hilda Mehus in the above pictures. In one picture she is showing the proper manner in which to sip tea or coffee. In contrast to this picture is the other which illustrates the wrong way. Note the elbows on the table, the manner in which the fingers are held around the cup handle, and the expression on the face.

WHAT'S WHAT IN GOOD MANNERS TOLD "Y" GIRLS

Charm Club Gets Tips on Etiquette.

Etiquette is the janitor of our soul. He should be on the job all the time. But he must never come upstairs in his working clothes, according to Mrs. Evelyn McDonald Passmore, walking delegate for this "good manners" union, who spoke last night before the "Charm School" of the Young Women's Christian association, 59 East Monroe street.

It is better to add up a column of figures wrong than to leave a spoon in the coffee cup, Mrs. Passmore averred, as she exhorted fifty young women to watch the angles of stray knives and forks.

"But don't think about your manners all the time," she advised. "They must be at work all the time, but you must be so accustomed to them that nobody realizes you are doing things by rule."

No Flirting at Table.

The furtive eye rolling flirtatiously above the bowl of bouillon may be attractive, but it's bad manners, the speaker insisted, as she recommended the downcast eye at the table.

The girls were advised as to the correct and incorrect method of making introductions. "Meet the wife" was laughed out of court as the wrong way for a proud husband to present friends to "the missus."

"Always," the speaker declared, "present the man to the woman, and the younger woman to the older woman."

Her audience looked perturbed as they discussed among themselves the method of introducing two of equal age, neither distinguished. "Mebbie you present the blonde to the brunette," suggested a black haired girl. At the conclusion of the lecture the girls set a model tea table, formed a reception line, "went down the line," chatted, and drank tea.

A Few of the Rules.

Here are a few of the rules prescribed: Keep elbows off the table. Rest the

BARTENDER IS GUIDE, COUNSELOR, "PAL" OF JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS

Washington, D. C., March 5.—(Special.)—John Sharp Williams, veteran Mississippi senator, who has just retired to private life after a long congressional career, paid high tribute to one of his pre-Violated period cronies the night before he left Washington.

Having declined a farewell banquet from his senatorial colleagues, Senator Williams ate his last dinner here in the humble home of his old friend, Philip Roche, a veteran bartender of Washington.

"I have known presidents, many of them," said Senator Williams in a parting toast to his friend. "I have mixed with cabinet officers; indeed, I have made some. I have been friends with great judges, ambassadors, statesmen, representatives of kings and potentates; but there is one friend whose memory will stay with me longer, whom I will cherish more dearly than that of all the lords of fame with whom I have been associated—and that friend sits by my side tonight."

Hands in the lap when not eating. Don't let the knife and fork "flop" over the table.

Keep the spoon out of the coffee cup. Don't shove at a soda fountain counter.

Be "at rest" going down a receiving line. Don't giggle, turn pale, or forget to shake hands.

Don't brag about your clothes, your house, or your food.

Don't shout over the telephone.

And, above all, see to it that the "etiquette janitor" never goes on a strike.

Queen of Denmark to Undergo an Operation

LONDON, March 5.—Queen Alexandra of Denmark is to enter the St. Lucas hospital in Copenhagen today to undergo a slight internal operation. The dispatch says there is every hope she will have recovered before her silver wedding celebration on April 26.

BUSTLES COMING BACK IN SPRING, FASHION DECREES

But They Are to Be of Lace and Ruffles.

"Something on the hip" is no longer the last word in prohibition styles for American women. The bustle has returned.

Mme. Alla Ripley, president of the Fashion Art League of America, in discussing plans for the league's convention, to be held at the Congress and Auditorium hotels March 12-15, yesterday predicted the popularity of the bustle in spring fashions.

But it will be a modified, a sublimated bustle, almost a fluffy bustle, according to Mme. Ripley.

All Ruffles and Lace.

"It will not be the stiff, ungraceful thing our grandmother wore, but will be a mass of ruffles and lace," she said. "The laces and ribbons and other returns to the very feminine styles of 1880 that are now being featured, demand that the material be bunched into fullness somewhere. But the American woman has grown so fond of the straight line silhouette that she refuses to give it up."

Influence of King Tut.

The great influence of King Tut is felt in all new modes, according to Mrs. Allie E. Dalley, a Chicago director of the league, who says the really well dressed woman must camouflage herself like the sands of the desert this summer.

"Desert brown," says Mrs. Dalley, "is the most fashionable color, although sand-almond green, olive green, dust color, and stone color are all good."

As a contrast to the "desert" tones of the fabric, the trimming, say the fashion experts, will be gorgeous in the colors dear to King Tut. Metal and Egyptian beaten brass ornaments will be popular.

GIRL WITH HIGH FEVER ENJOYS SNOW BANK NAP

Escanaba, Mich., March 5.—The condition of Miss Evelyn Lyons, who has been baffling the medical profession by carrying a temperature of 114 degrees for fifteen days, has not changed in the last twenty-four hours, according to Dr. Harry Defnet, city health officer in charge of the case. According to Dr. Defnet's report, the girl is walking about the house at times.

The story has just leaked out that Tuesday the girl left the sickroom clad only in her night clothing and went into the open air with the temperature considerably below freezing. After a frantic search of an hour the mother and neighbors found the girl lying in a snowbank.

"I was tired of staying in bed and wanted to cool off," the girl was declared to have said, and, according to physicians, was none the worse for her experience.

CROWDER FIRST AMBASSADOR TO CUBAN REPUBLIC

HAVANA, March 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—For the first time in the history of the republic, Cuba has a diplomatic representative accredited to her bearing the rank of ambassador. Maj. Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, U. S. A., retired, today presented his ambassadorial credentials to President Zayas at the presidential palace.

In the reception room of the palace President Zayas received Gen. Crowder, who in a brief address said his instructions were "constantly to endeavor to advance the interests and prosperity of both governments." The new ambassador then handed his credentials to Dr. Zayas, who introduced Gen. Crowder to the members of his cabinet.

A. G. WHEELER II. LOSES 13 YEAR DIVORCE FIGHT

Judge to Grant Decree to Actress Wife.

Thirteen years' quest for freedom and alimony from Albert Gallatin Wheeler II, son of the builder of Chicago's freight tunnel system, ended yesterday when Judge Walter P. Stefan indicated that he would grant a divorce to Mrs. Claudia Carlstedt Wheeler, actress nationally known as "The Girl in the Red Tights."

The decree will ratify an alimony settlement, the exact terms of which were not disclosed. It is understood that it provides for the immediate payment of $31,200 claimed by Mrs. Wheeler under a separate maintenance decree awarded her by a New York court in 1916. Establishment of a trust fund assuring the actress a substantial annuity for life is also included.

She Charged Desertion.

The couple were married on March 31, 1888, and separated on March 6, 1910, when according to Mrs. Wheeler's testimony, Wheeler, vice president of the Automatic Telephone company and a partner in the J. B. Russell & Co., La Salle and Wall street brokers, deserted her.

In 1910 Mrs. Wheeler sued for separate maintenance in New York and was awarded $10,000 yearly alimony, which was later reduced to $6,000 when Wheeler, member of a dozen New York and Chicago clubs, protested financial embarrassment. Immediately thereafter Wheeler filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District court.

"For seven years my spare time has been spent in chasing my husband all over the country to get him to pay the alimony," declared Mrs. Wheeler. "It has become too much of a strain. I have spent my winters in theatrical work and the summers, when I should be recuperating for the coming season, in pursuing Mr. Wheeler."

Stage Melée in Gotham.

Several months ago Mrs. Wheeler unexpectedly met Wheeler at 40th street and Madison avenue in New York and as a result of the meeting which followed both were taken into custody by the police. Wheeler was released on bond.

"I have been forced to live like a nun, hiding in deadly fear of a 'frame-up' on the part of Mr. Wheeler to force me to drop my alimony claim," continued Mrs. Wheeler. "My steps have been dogged by detectives and uncouth persons and in my country wide travels I have been afraid to stop at popular hotels but instead have stayed at Y. W. C. A. hostels."

Mrs. Wheeler, for years known as "the best dressed woman in America," became prominent theatrically for her roles in "Aphrodite" and "Experience," appearance as "Fashion" and "Fashion" in the latter production.

Sued Elder Wheeler.

Suit for $1,000,000 damages was begun several years ago by Mrs. Wheeler against her father-in-law, now dead, whom she declared had alienated Wheeler's affections from her. The elder Wheeler was also defendant in a suit brought by his daughter-in-law to recover valuable wedding presents which she alleged her husband had given his father for safe keeping.

Prices realized on Swift & Company sales of carcasses held in Chicago for week ending Saturday, March 3, on shipments sold out, ranged from 7.00 cents to 18.00 cents per pound and averaged 12.10 cents per pound.

42 APARTMENT TENANTS JOIN IN FINISH RENT WAR

promise, or Move.

Rent war to a finish was declared last night by forty-two tenants of the Parkside apartments, 200-226 North Hamilton avenue, meeting in a hall at 3800 Madison street.

The tenants, protesting against a proposed increase from $50 to $120 a month for eight room flats, unanimously voted to "stand pat"—to refuse to meet the landlord's demand, to compromise, or to vacate.

Plan to Invoke Law.

The leases for these apartments, which, it was said, five years ago rented for $42.50 a month, have been granted in the name of "Lillian Weschler," represented by S. B. Weschler. The property has changed hands during the last year, according to Mrs. I. Fletcher, chairman of the committee in charge of the protest proceedings.

At last night's meeting Attorney Thomas Kennedy was formally retained and instructed to inform Mr. Weschler the tenants have decided to invoke a provision of the state law which may enable them to remain in their apartments for six months, although refusing to pay the increased rent.

"Without counting this latest demand, rents of Parkside apartments have been boosted 100 per cent in the last five years," said a member of the protest committee, following the meeting. "We can't stand any more, but we don't want to move, some of us having lived in these flats fifteen years or more."

Hope Others Will Act.

"We hope that in taking a lead in this fight we may encourage others threatened by unreasonable rent raises to follow suit. If they do the chances of calling a halt will be good."

Mr. Weschler could not be reached last night, but, according to tenants, he has explained general increased costs make the rent boosts necessary.

SPEED DEMON TAKES 3 MORE CHICAGO LIVES

Toll for Year Is Already at 103 Mark.

Three persons, one a 12 year old boy, died yesterday as the result of injuries received in automobile accidents. Motor crashes have been responsible for 103 deaths in Cook county this year.

The couple instantly killed Sunday night when they were struck by a taxicab driven by Nelson Croft, 1657 Irving avenue, were identified yesterday as Konstanty Kowalski, 42 years old, and his wife, Helen Kowalski, 37 years old. They formerly lived at 2084 Throop street.

Sons Identify Couple.

The identification was made by two sons of the couple, Harry and Theodore Kowalski, who asserted that their parents had visited friends on Sunday afternoon. Failure of the elder Kowalski to return to their home aroused fears which were later confirmed in newspaper accounts of the accident at 22d and Throop streets. Croft, the chauffeur, is held by Maxwell street police pending an inquest today.

Nick Kypriel, 12 years old, living at 2087 West 22d street, died yesterday from injuries received Saturday when he was struck by an automobile. The youthful victim, according to witnesses, was roller skating in the street. He had been "hitching on" to an automobile, released his hold, and swerved directly into the path of a car driven by Lawrence A. Gleason, 1733 Cullerton street.

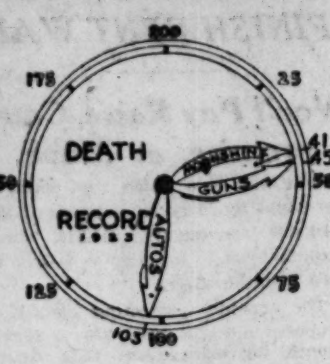

Victim of "Vampire."

Mrs. Belle Gideon, 38 years old, victim of a "vampire" taxicab, died in the Chicago hospital yesterday from injuries sustained on Jan. 25.

Injuries received when his automobile collided with another driven by Edward Hartman, 612 South California avenue, proved fatal yesterday to Frank Terlik, 35 years old, 1015 Home avenue, Oak Park. Terlik was taken to the county hospital after the accident, which occurred at Blue Island avenue and Polk street.

Matron Chief D. J. Ahern of the fire department suffered serious injuries last night, when the fire car in which he was being driven to an alarm at Western avenue and Arling-ton place, was struck by a truck. The accident took place at Robey and Harrison streets. The driver of the fire car also was injured.

HANDS OF DEATH

The clock is the recorder of the toll taken by pistols, moonshine, and automobiles. Yesterday the number of victims taken by speeding cars crept forward to 103 since the first of the year.

Haig & Haig to Quit; No Market for Good Booze

LONDON, March 5.—[United News].—Haig & Haig, Ltd., the boys who made the pinch bottle famous, are going out of business.

It is understood that the famous distillers have started voluntary liquidation. The lack of demand for super-fine whisky is said to be the reason. Haig whisky, which has almost disappeared from the market, costs 13s a bottle, compared with 12s 6d for other brands.

TURKS DEMAND RIGHTS GIVEN TO ALL FREE RACES

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
ANGORA, March 5.—The government of Turkey is prepared to exhaust its resources to the last cent and the population to the last man to attain absolute political and economic independence.

This statement was made by Kemal Pasha, who is responsible for the existence of the government. In a two hour interview with The Tribune, British and South American correspondents at his home this afternoon, the statement was made after Kemal Pasha had made it clear that the government regarded the economic and financial clauses in the unsigned treaty as an encroachment upon the economic and political independence of the country.

Questions News Men.

Kemal Pasha had outlined the internal and external policies the government hoped to accomplish, and had given his views regarding the superiority of one chamber for a government like Angora over the usual republics where two houses prevail, when he said he would like to ask two questions: "After having seen what you gentlemen have here and spoken with diplomatic and cabinet members and army leaders, do any one of you believe Turkey does not desire peace?" he asked.

The correspondents unanimously replied "No." One followed this up with: "I think Turkey desires nothing but independence."

Meaning of Independence.

A British correspondent, before the others had time to reply, explained that the answer hinged upon the interpretation of the word independence and that unquestionably England had no desire to encroach upon the Turkish independence, and had it not showed that by what it was doing at Lausanne?

Without a second of hesitation Kemal replied: "Turkey is willing to accept the allies' own idea of independence as far as their own liberty is concerned. Do they recognize our independence the same way they recognize each other's?"

"We asked nothing more from the allies than they demand of one another."

Like Other Men.

The anti-Islam attitude of the western powers is based upon a plan-exercised against barbarous countries. This impression of Turkey was caused partly by the dealings with the old Constantinople government and partly by the poverty of the people. But if anyone would take the trouble to study and hear the wishes and aims of the people, he would realize that the Turk is neither a savage nor a barbarian and desires nothing but what the civilized world recognizes as human rights."

Kemal before this had explained that Turkey desired peaceful terms with all countries. He said there was nothing in the treaty with Russia than other countries have in similar treaties the world over. Already treaties of amity have been established with Persia and Afghanistan as well as with Russia. Unfortunately the rupture of the Lausanne conference delayed treaties with the west, including the United States.

Kemal objected to the economic and financial clauses not only because they deprived Turkey of the customary right to dispose of its own resources—American economists experts assured The Tribune that these clauses are a vindication of the open door policy which Ambassador Child proclaimed—but on the ground that they are capiti-latory in effect. In dealing with Turkey one must remember it is a new, rejuvenated Turkey and the impression of old Turkey must be erased, if statesmen desire peace, Kemal remarked.

SIX "REAL BEER" BREWERS FACE FEDERAL SUITS

Renewed efforts to use effectively the federal prohibition injunction law against Illinois breweries which insist upon manufacturing and selling the "good old amber" will be made this week, according to plans announced yesterday by local prohibition officials.

Agents under Chief Field Agent John E. Early have just completed a survey of the "real beer" situation in Illinois and have reported that six establishments in particular have been dispensing freely.

Petitions aimed at the half dozen offenders now are being prepared by Assistant Attorney General George Wilson and will be presented in court within a few days, it was said.

DUBLIN, March 5.—A big fight was held in County Kerry tonight, three irregulars being killed, three wounded, and seven taken prisoners. The troops suffered casualties of one lieutenant, one sergeant, and one private being killed.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1923, By The Chicago Tribune.]
DUBLIN, March 5.—(Tribune Special.)—The Irish Free State has made good, and the Republican rebellion is at an end. This assurance was given me today by Irish ministers on my return to Dublin after a seven months' absence, and this was the impression received from the general appearance of things and from the man in the street.

Thus the surrender of Liam Deasy and his men there has been a steady degeneration of the Republican forces. If the bands operating in one or two forces could be dismantled by that man, the Irish minister told me that there were some good fighting men in Cork, Kerry, and parts of Tipperary, but they have all come into the Free state fold.

No Organized Force.
Dublin is quiet now, except for occasional sniping or the explosion of a land mine by individuals, but there is no organized force. Matters have improved so much that ministers who are now living in government buildings, practically as prisoners for months, are now able to visit their homes and see their families, although it is still unsafe for them to live unguarded and probably will be while the danger of Valera is at large agitating the youthful disciples.

The most serious situation is in the country, where country houses are destroyed with monotonous regularity, but this is not political but is pure robbery. It is done from the same motives which prompted the French peasants to burn chateaux after the revolution—a desire to obtain land which belongs to the owners of the houses after they have been driven from the country.

Seize Cattle of Gullity.
The government has taken stern measures to end this agricultural anarchy and is retaliating on the guilty by seizing and selling their cattle for the benefit of their victims. Also the government is placing bodies of troops throughout the country to replace the armed police, who it is now recognized cannot deal with armed men by moral suasion alone.

The improvement in the appearance of the national troops is amazing, considering the short time since they have been organized. Six months ago the national army was just a mob of rascally boys in uniform. Now it is an army of smart soldiers who take pride in their appearance and bear every evidence of efficiency.

De Valera Eludes Dublin.
The ministers admit that some secret still leave much to be desired. The continual escape of Mr. de Valera from arrest is frankly admitted to be the fault of the army intelligence, which ought to have laid him by the heels long ago. I am assured that there is no truth to the theory, somewhat widely held, that the government does not want to arrest Mr. de Valera because it would not know what to do with him.

2 BOYS BEATING WAY CRUSHED IN CAR; NEAR DEATH

Riding freight trains on their way to a western ranch may cost the lives of two boys. The boys, who were riding on a freight train, were crushed when the train derailed. The boys were identified as Fred Rutherford, Delta, Ia., and his brother, who were riding on the train. The train derailed near Cedar Rapids, Ia.

William A. Brennan, father of Redmond, said last night the boys were well supplied with funds and it was not necessary for them to ride in freight trains.

'BOOZE MARINES' AWAIT FAIR WIND FOR MANEUVERS

Highlands, N. J., March 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Rum Row is working feverishly to get its bargain counters ready for the spring rush. Considerable activity in the fleet, notably three arrivals, two departures, and the arrival of supply tugs from New York, was observed today. The most imposing of the new arrivals on the Row is a two-masted tanker of approximately 2,500 gross tons, and it apparently is loaded until the plimsoll marks are down. The other arrivals were schooners of the Bahamas type.

The weather still is unfavorable for extensive running to the shore, and bottle fishermen on the Jersey coast are waiting until the wind blows right.

MAN, 62, DYING, WEDS GIRL; LIVES ONLY ONE HOUR

Wanted Her to Inherit
His Property.

For an hour yesterday Eleanor McCarthy, 24 year old daughter of Robert E. McCarthy, 5251 Wayne avenue, was a bride. At the end of the hour death had made her the widow of Herman A. Swanson, 5645 Glenwood avenue.

The man, 62 years old and dying of chronic nephritis, had sent a last hour summons to Miss McCarthy early yesterday morning. The girl responded. At 3:30 she had taken out the marriage license. At 10 o'clock the ceremony was performed at Swanson's home by Justice of the Peace E. M. Mickey of Wilmette. Twenty minutes later the husband fainted away. At 11 o'clock he died.

Three Witness Ceremony.
Claude Fitch of Wilmette, a friend of Mr. Swanson, Dr. Millicent Madden, who attended the dying man, and a nurse were the only witnesses.

Miss McCarthy had been a friend of Mr. Swanson for three years. The latter, a widower and formerly head of a company manufacturing a rheumatism cure, was formerly considered rich, but his wealth had dwindled away in poor investments.

Mr. Swanson, a veteran of the Board of Trade, a member of the brokerage firm of E. W. Bailey & Co., 141 West Jackson boulevard, and was secretary of the grand jury which investigated the Lorimer scandal several years ago.

Her Father Objected.
Until a year and a half ago, when the former Mrs. Swanson died, Miss McCarthy had looked on the manufacturer as a family friend. But shortly after the death of his wife Mr. Swanson proclaimed a desire to marry her. On the ground of their disparity in ages, were raised by Miss McCarthy's father, however, and definite plans were postponed.

When Mr. Swanson was taken ill last Saturday his first thought was of the marriage. He declared he wanted what little property he had to go to Miss McCarthy in case of his death.

The crisis in his illness came yesterday morning, and his condition was so serious that it was felt there was no time to send for a priest.

While her husband was still alive, his bride stayed by his side. After his death she collapsed, however, and was taken to her home. The news came as a shock to her parents.

HOGUE IS FREED IN 'COMIC OPERA AIRCRAFT CASE'

Mentally Irresponsible, Court Decides.

Federal Judge Wilkerson yesterday wrote the finale of Chicago's "comic opera aircraft scandal" when he ordered a jury to return a verdict of not guilty in the case of Clarence I. Hogue, who was in charge of the airplane inspection offices here during the war, and who was indicted in November, 1918, following sensational reports of farcical features of his department.

Virtual dismissal of the case followed evidence purporting to show Hogue became mentally irresponsible shortly after he was placed in charge of the office.

Hogue in 1917 was appointed assistant district inspector of airplanes by Alfred R. Brunner, then district inspector and now president of the Liquid Carbonic company.

Mixed Upset, Belief.
During Mr. Brunner's absence from the city Hogue was alleged in the indictment to have placed several persons on the pay roll who were mythical and others who either were unqualified to inspect airplanes or who knew nothing about the subject.

Mr. Brunner, in testifying yesterday morning, said that he believed Hogue was mentally irresponsible, due to a nervous breakdown. He told of Hogue's keeping two apartments, one on the north and one on the south side; two liveried footmen, and two chauffeurs.

In his office, Mr. Brunner testified, he had a semaphoric system of signals installed which indicated the wealth of the person who was calling on him. Other idiosyncracies were also brought out.

Among the witnesses yesterday were John Clabaugh, father of Hinton G. Clabaugh, former head of the Chicago branch of the department of justice. Mr. Clabaugh testified that he was appointed as an inspector to the office under the name of "Brooks."

He testified that he knew little or nothing about the inspection of airplanes and that most of his time was spent idly.

Orders Not Guilty Finding.
Several other witnesses were heard. Then Judge Wilkerson instructed the jury, after a plea by Attorney Clarence Darrow, counsel for Hogue, to return a verdict of not guilty.

Attacked Girl Identifies Man as Her Assailant

Edward Linnehan, a mechanic, 6324 Washburn avenue, was identified last night by Madeline Faut, 17 years old, 503 West 68th place, as the man who attacked her on Sunday night after luring her from a south side dance hall. One of the girl's companions at the dance hall also identified Linnehan.

Linnehan was traced through a garage at which he stopped.

CADILLAC SERVICE

THE OWNER of a Type 59 Cadillac came in one day last week to get new front end drive chains. He had been told by an outside service station that they were necessary.

The mechanic who advised him evidently was not only unaware of the simple adjustment provided for these chains, but did not even know how to remove them properly and consequently damaged them beyond repair.

Incidents of this nature occur almost daily—continuous evidence of the loss Cadillac owners experience by having work done in shops not equipped or manned to give intelligent, efficient service.

Cadillac Official Service Stations are maintained to protect the Cadillac owner's interests—to assure him of the greatest satisfaction that can be derived from the performance of a fine motor car.

Watch Your Knees

Teach men to do classic Greek dances and the masculine knee in a bathing suit will become a thing of beauty and grace, is the optimistic prediction made yesterday by Mons. Vasileios Kanellos, speaking before the Drama League of America at the home of Mrs. Frederick D. Countess, 1524 Lake Shore drive.

Mons. Kanellos, premier danseur of the Royal theater, Athens, spoke on "Reviving Interest in the Classic Art of Greece," and exhorted Chicago men, as well as women, to study the "noble and heroic" art of classic dancing.

"In ancient Athens," said Mons. Kanellos, "men's limbs were exposed beneath their tunics, and bystanders would scoff at men with undeveloped, awkward bodies. I wonder how many men in this city could pass the test of wearing the Grecian tunic?"

Ganna Walaka McCormick, Polish diva; Jules Dabier, her French manager, and Sol Hurok, manager for the Russian Opera company, have started a musical whirlwind revolving about the Chicago public.

The latest report from the triumvirate involved in the question of Mrs. McCormick's appearance with the Russians was issued late yesterday. It is something like this:

The Polish singer, who has twice failed to appear on the Chicago concert stage, leaves today for Kansas City to sing there tomorrow. She then proceeds to San Diego and her husband.

From California, according to her statement yesterday, she will announce to Sol Hurok whether or not she will appear with the Russians in Chicago. On March 24 the Polish singer sails for Europe.

THINK ONLY OF LAW, GRAND JURY TOLD AT BASTROP

Court Enjoins Against Discrimination.

Bastrop, La., March 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Morehouse parish grand jury was drawn today and charged by District Judge Fred M. Odom.

State Attorney General A. V. Coo expects to appear tomorrow and submit evidence obtained at the open hearing here in January into kidnappings and other activities of masked bands which the state charges to the Ku Klux Klan, and ask for from thirty to fifty indictments, ranging from assault to murder, the last in connection with the slaying of Watt Daniel and T. P. Richards.

The grand jury panel comprises eight farmers, three merchants, and one oil well worker. J. C. Evans, Oak Ridge farmer, is foreman. Estimates of the number of Klansmen on the jury run as high as six. Nothing concerning its inquiry is expected from the jury until it makes its final report to the court, which is expected within a week or ten days.

Court Enjoins Fairness.

Judge Odom in his charge to the jury said:

"The violation of law to which I call your special attention has been laid at the door of the Ku Klux Klan. Whether that organization is responsible for these outrages or not is a matter which does not concern you in the slightest. You are not here to unmask Klansmen or to disrupt the Ku Klux Klan as an organization. You are to present and indict criminals without regard to their affiliations.

"Before the law all men, whether they be members of the Ku Klux Klan, the Masonic fraternity, the Knights of Columbus, the B'nai B'rith, or the Methodist church, stand precisely upon the same plane; they are all equal. You are to deal with men, not with organizations, societies, or fraternities. Told to Ignore Thought of Creeds.

"If in your deliberations you become convinced that a certain citizen has violated the law, it would never occur to you to inquire whether he was of Christian or Hebrew faith, or a Mason, or a Woodman, and if such a course should be suggested to you you would feel insulted. Why, then, should you be concerned over the question of whether these crimes were committed through the Klan as an organization or by Klansmen as individuals?

Wife Intercedes for Mate After He Gives Her Beating

Although Martin Silber, 26, 817 South Ashland avenue, beat his wife, Mrs. Cecilia Silber, for attempting to leave the house, Mrs. Silber pleaded for his release when he was charged with disorderly conduct yesterday. He had unjustly suspected her of a "date" with a former sweetheart, she said. Judge Richardson discharged Silber with the remark that some women would have had him sent to the penitentiary.

AWARDED DIVORCE

YVONNE GARDELLE.
(Pacific and Atlantic Photo.)

Los Angeles, Cal., March 5.—Yvonne Gardelle, dancer and actress of stage and screen, has filed a suit for divorce from Carlton Gardelle, sculptor, it became known today. She alleged Gardelle, who was her guardian before he married her, was cruel to her.

WIFE HEARS HE HAS $1,300; NABS HIM; $3 IS GONE

Although they have lived together happily for many years and have seven children, William Mikalinski, 4529 South Hermitage avenue, it seems lacks the confidence of his wife. When she heard that he had drawn $1,300 out of the bank for no reason known to her, she at once suspected the "other woman" and called the police. Mikalinski was found with $1,297 still in his pockets.

Valentino Must Wait Till April 9 to Remarry

Rodolph Valentino's plans to marry Winifred Hudnut yesterday were all upset by announcement that his decree of divorce from Jean Acker in Los Angeles was not signed until April 9, 1923. Which means that marriage now would be mere superfluity and that the sheik must wait until next April 9 before the ceremony would be legal.

HARDINGS ON WAY TO FLORIDA BY SPECIAL TRAIN

Aboard President Harding's Special Train, Florida Bound, Rocky Mount, N. C., March 5.—For the first time since his inauguration two years ago, President Harding is now on a real vacation, freed from the necessity of keeping in touch with the uncertainties of congress and the routine of the executive office.

He left Washington this noon with Mrs. Harding and a party of friends on a special train for Florida for a four or five weeks' houseboat cruise on the inland waterways between St. Augustine and Miami.

The real purpose of the trip is to build up Mrs. Harding's health with quiet and Florida sunshine. Today, on her way to the train, she stepped outside of the White House for the first time since her serious illness last September.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthio-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up, and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Menthio-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

Whitehall Pharmacal Co., New York

January on account of failing health, left his sick-bed to accompany the presidential party.

The President's special is due to arrive at Ormond, Fla., tomorrow noon. There will be waiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, the Hardings' hosts on the houseboat cruise.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Harding on the train and who will also be guests on board the McLean houseboat are A. D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board; Brig. Gen. C. E. Sawyer, the Hardings' physician, and George B. Christian Jr., secretary to the President.

Attorney General Daugherty and Jesse W. Smith, one of his most intimate friends, may board the McLean houseboat, but this depends upon how well Mr. Daugherty has stood the long train ride.

Secretary and Mrs. Weeks are also on the presidential special, but will leave the train tomorrow morning at St. Augustine.

Visits With Virginia Town People.

When the train stopped for water at Emporia, Va., a small town some distance above the Virginia line, a crowd of several hundred persons, including many school children, had gathered. The President appeared on the observation platform, but beyond applause there was quiet until a tall Virginian stepped up, introduced himself and inquired about Mrs. Harding. This broke the ice and the town people crowded around, the President shaking hands with as many as time would permit.

HOY, 13, MISSING; SOUGHT HERE. Arthur A. Walters, Western Springs, Ill., yesterday asked the sheriff to keep a look out for his 13 year old son, Walter Jr., who ran away from his grandparents' home at Western Springs on Saturday and is believed to have come to Chicago.

Imperishable Examples of True Architecture

PROBABLY but few of all the millions of people who have admired the beautiful stone buildings in every large city in this country and in many of the smaller towns, realize that the stone in the majority of these structures is quarried from the hills of Southern Indiana—from two counties in the Hoosier State.

For projects of large proportion the Indiana Limestone industry is usually selected to furnish the stone, for the reason that no other of suitable building stone producers have equal facilities and advanced quarrying methods.

A few of the Indiana Limestone structures of which our Nation justly may be proud are: in New York City, notably the Grand Central Terminal, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the new Cunard Building and the Trinity Building, known as "New York's Great Fire Wall," in Washington, D. C., the Scottish Rite Cathedral, acknowledged an architectural gem, the U. S. Treasury Annex, Department of Interior and Chamber of Commerce buildings, and the Bureau of Printing and Engraving building; in Boston, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and John Hancock Insurance Co. building; in Dallas, the American Exchange National Bank and new Magnolia Petroleum Company building, the largest in the South; and in New Orleans, the Hibernia Bank building. A number of State Capitols have been built of Indiana Limestone: at Atlanta, Ga.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Frankfort, Ky.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Jackson, Miss.; and recently it was selected for the Nebraska Capital now being erected at Lincoln. Impressive examples of its use in Chicago are the Art Institute, the Drake Hotel, the Federal Reserve and Illinois Merchants Bank buildings, the London Guarantee & Accident Insurance Company building, the magnificent Methodist Temple, "the tallest church in the world," and the University of Chicago group. Indiana Limestone also has been selected for construction of the new Union Station, Head House and Concourse.

Buildings like these, erected for all time of stone from the greatest quarry deposit in this country, constitute additions to American architecture that will serve as inspirations to better building for generations to come.

Our handsomely illustrated booklet which tells the story of Indiana Limestone will be sent free upon request. Address Indiana Limestone Quarrymen's Association, Box 603, Bedford, Indiana.

SURVIVOR NAMES 4 ON TRIAL AS HERRIN RIOTERS

Tells of Mine Massacre to Second Jury.

Marion, Ill., March 5.—[Special.]—William Cairns, survivor of the Herrin massacre, was the chief witness today, the first day of evidence in the second trial. Six men are on trial, charged technically with the murder of Antonio Mulhovich, a victim of the massacre last June.

Cairns, who was a star witness for the state in the first trial, pointed out three of the defendants in this trial and told of a fourth defendant coming up to the column of prisoners where he was being held.

He told of seeing Phillip Fontanetta, an Italian youth, shoot and kill John Shoemaker, assistant mine superintendent, and a mining engineer, after Shoemaker had been wounded mortally and lay only ten feet from Cairns.

Identified by Missing Ear.

He also described seeing James Brown, a colored man, with a rifle and wearing an army helmet, march along the column and intimate that he would help kill the nonunion men. Cairns later returned to the county, and accompanied by Richard Odum, state bailiff in charge of the present jury, went to Colp, a mining camp, and identified Brown because of his left ear being cut off.

The witness said he saw Otis Clark, with another man, lead Superintendent C. K. McDowell away from the column of prisoners. In the first trial evidence showed that McDowell was taken down a side road and killed. Cairns pointed out Defendants Otis Clark, James Brown and Phillip Fontanetta in the courtroom. He also told of a closed car driving up to the column of prisoners at the power house, just before they became human targets, and heard the crowd say "here comes Willie" but he did not see the occupant of the car. Hugh Willis, Illinois miners' state official, is one of the defendants in this trial.

The coroner and the undertaker, who buried the bodies, could not agree on which was the body of Antonio Mulhovich and were very indefinite in their identifications.

Victim a War Veteran.

Cairns, however, told of knowing Mulhovich at the mine and told also of seeing his dead body, about twelve feet from him at the wire fence. He told of seeing the army discharge of Mulhovich, who entered the army from Erie, Pa., and served in three of America's major offensives in the world war. When Attorney George Stone for the defense in cross examination accused the witness of receiving $50 a day and expenses on one occasion and $10 a day and expenses on another occasion for making investigations for the state he replied with emphasis that it was a "lie."

WOMAN BEATEN UNTIL SHE SHOWS ROBBERS HOARD

Beating her over the head with a poker until she revealed where her money was hidden, two young and well dressed thieves yesterday robbed Mrs. Pelki Sortehuck, 35 years old, 1115 West 15th street, of $800. Afterwards they escaped in an automobile in which two other men were waiting. Mrs. Sortehuck said the men entered the house through a rear door. One produced a revolver and ordered her to hold up her hands. When she refused the second man picked up a stove poker and menaced her with it, demanding the whereabouts of the money.

At her second refusal the man, she asserts, struck her with the poker until she gave in.

LUNDIN TO ASK CHANGE OF VENUE IN BOODLE CASES

Petitions for a change of venue for Fred Lundin, Virtus C. Rohm, and twenty-two other co-defendants charged with grafting $1,000,000 of the school board funds, will be presented to Judge Oscar Hebel in Criminal court tomorrow morning, it was announced by attorneys for the defendants yesterday.

The case was called by Judge Hebel yesterday morning. Attorneys Charles Erbstein, Clarence Darrow, Benedict Short, and Patrick O'Donnell appeared in behalf of their clients and asked that the court grant a change on the ground that there was some objection by two defendants of being tried before Judge Hebel.

The lawyers were informed to make the application in the form of a written petition and it would be considered. If the change is granted, it was predicted that Judge Charles A. McDonald will be assigned by Chief Justice Michael McKinley to hear the case.

CZECHO-POLISH PARLEY IN APRIL TO SEAL PEACE

Benes Expects Union of Central Europe.

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright: 1923. By The Chicago Tribune.)

PRAQUE, March 5.—Dr. Edvard Benes, Czech foreign minister, is going to Warsaw early in April to discuss plans for entry into the little entente.

"I cannot say Poland will be a full member of the entente," Dr. Benes said, cautiously, "but its collaboration with Czech-Slovakia and Roumania will at least be more intimate in the future."

Peace With Poland.

The dispute between Poland and Czech-Slovakia over the Teschen coal fields, which prevented close relations between the two countries during the peace settlement, has now been adjusted and the way cleared for Poland to become a fourth member of the powerful military, economic and political alliance, taking the place of the old Austro-Hungarian empire in central Europe. A more or less unified bloc of 60,000,000 people will be back of Germany, so as a political and military fact it will be of first rate importance in western Europe.

"The little entente in the center of peace in central Europe today," Dr. Benes said, who at 59 years of age finds himself one of the biggest statesmen in central Europe. "No war can break out in central Europe today, because no great conflict interests us, and in case of a threatened war the little entente will stand together, because the member states are complementary with one another and have the same economic and political interests. Our treaties are based on the identical things and never will be broken. The little entente is a pacifist alliance."

To Stand Together.

"If one of us is attacked, all will feel attacked, because our economic interdependence and our potential strength, which makes it unlikely that we will be attacked."

Dr. Benes said the little entente would not support a Roumanian attack on Russia, and it was unlikely that Russia would start an offensive when it knew Roumania would have the full support of the little entente.

"The recent defensive military alliance between Poland and Roumania also had helped to create closer bonds between the former and the little entente," he said.

TRUSS

CHICAGO

DEMONSTRATION
RUPTURE RELIEF
IMMEDIATELY

We wish to announce the visit of the Collins Truss Experts to Chicago at the Victoria Hotel, Corner

South Clark and Van Buren Streets, Chicago, Ill., Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 7, 8, 9 and 10, from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. and evenings 7 to 9.

Back View of
New Invention for Rupture

We want to demonstrate to you absolutely without a penny in advance our new invention for holding difficult and aggressive ruptures, whether of inguinal or Umbilical character. If you are ruptured you should be interested in our ability to fit you with a truss that will do its work properly and give you the greatest ease and comfort possible.

Scientific and Practical

This New Collins Truss is based on the most scientific principles for holding a rupture. It is not only representative of mechanical perfection, but contains that super-power for holding a rupture without discomfort and that makes for a complete recovery where this result is possible.

Contains No Springs

There are no springs or metal parts used in this new truss other than the small necessary buckles; instead it is made of high-grade elastic web with soft, pliable cloth, back made wide so as to distribute the pressure over a broader surface. Prevents all cutting and chafing, and gives the necessary support to the pads.

It Holds the Rupture

It is easily, quickly and permanently adjusted so an even and uniform pressure can be constantly maintained at any desired tension. The patented sectional pads are adjustable and will suit any kind of rupture. As the case progresses the pressure can be lessened without a change of pads.

It Stays Put

When placed in position, the truss stays put and does not slide or shift. Regardless of the position of the wearer's body; stooping, jumping or standing erect, the truss remains firm and set, and adjusts itself as the occasion demands.

Comfortable Day or Night

To do its maximum amount of good a truss should be worn continuously day and night. Upon retiring many people remove their truss, with the result that the weakened muscular tissues relax and often times allow the rupture to assume the form of the original protrusion. This new truss can be worn at all times.

RED MENACE

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

WARSAW, March 5.—M. Tschitcherin today handed the Finnish ambassador, Mr. Hackzell, a note protesting strongly against Finland's negotiations with the league of nations concerning the attribution of Karelia, a region bordering on Finland and the White sea, and including Archangel.

The note says the Moscow government insists that Karelia is an integral part of the soviet and warns the Helsinki government that Finland's demands might provoke armed conflicts not only in Karelia but between Russia and Finland.

Reds Are Uppish.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) GENEVA, March 5.—The league of nations secretariat denies that Finland demands sovereignty in Karelia, but merely wants frontiers definitely fixed. A plebiscite has been suggested, but it unofficially has been repudied by the bolsheviks.

Princess Fights Lawyer's

Claim of $2,450,000 Fee

Los Angeles, Cal., March 5.—(Special.)—Princess Ole Humphrey Haasan Broadwood believes it is time to quit all this law business over the sum of $2,450,000 which Attorney Herman L. Roth says she owes him. She filed a cross complaint today declaring that Roth never got a dollar for her from her recent husband, Prince Ibrahim of Egypt. Roth declares he gave his services on a fifty-fifty basis. He asserted he obtained $4,900,000, and that half of it is due him.

WORLD REVOLT WAITS ON CHINA AND INDIA—LENIN

"Masses of the Far East Must Be Educated."

MOSCOW, March 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Premier Lenin contributes a lengthy article to the Pravda, in which he reiterates that while a world revolution is inevitable, it is likely to be postponed until the masses of the people in India and China are sufficiently educated and developed to wage the struggle.

He says the interventionists in Russia and Europe were defeated and the counter revolution was broken because of dissension in the camp of the "eastern exploiters," namely, Japan and America.

Until the final struggle comes, in which the great masses of the east will have a part, the premier asserts that Russia must adopt an economic program capable of preventing the imperialistic European states from crushing her.

Germany Refused Russian Food.

Germany refused to accept food from Russia after the armistice because of a promise by President Wilson that the United States would furnish food, according to an article in the Pravda by Karl Radek, chief of soviet publicity.

Russian officials, the article states, offered to start a train of grain to Germany, but Herr von Haase, German director of food, replied:

"We have received from President Wilson a promise that America will supply Germany with foodstuffs in sufficient quantity. We therefore ask you to use the bread for the hungry of Russia."

to use the bread for the hungry of Russia."

French Seek Russia's Friendship.

PARIS, March 5.—The belief of Basile Maklakoff, that reconstruction will be possible in Russia when the moderates gain control of the soviet government and carry out essential reforms, was commented upon today by representative Frenchmen as indicating a new orientation of the Russian problem. Maklakoff, appointed ambassador to France under the Kerensky regime, is a well known constitutional democrat.

There is a widespread sentiment that France should resume relations with Russia at the earliest practicable moment, for many Russians bonds are held by the French republic.

The difficulty is in the soviet government's refusal to recognize the old foreign debt. The bolshevik suggestion that The Hague conference be permitted to deal directly with the French bondholders over the heads of the French government is interpreted here as an attempt to extend soviet propaganda.

Jury Decides Financial

Loss Led Man to End Life

Unfortunate speculations, which cost him $15,000 and necessitated the postponement of his marriage, led William Hildebrand, ex-marine corps sergeant, to shoot himself in his room at 1128 Lafayette parkway, it was decided by a coroner's jury yesterday.

Mrs. Eva Contes, to whom Hildebrand was engaged, said that they were to have been married in June. "He became despondent over his financial losses," she said.

Your liver is the greatest blood purifier. But if deficient in alkalies, the normal separation of waste and body poisons is interfered with. Then you become bilious, have headaches or dizzy spells. Then use YEL-O-GRAN to remove the excessive acids and restore the alkaline balance, and so stimulate the liver naturally.

McNARY, VEXED BY SENATE VOTE, DECLINES OFFICE

Washington, D. C., March 5.—(Special.)—James G. McNary declined today to accept a recess appointment from President Harding as controller of the currency. Following his declaration it was announced at the White House that D. R. Crisinger will continue in the office until the return of President Harding from Florida, the governorship of the federal reserve board, which is to be filled by Mr. Crisinger, remaining vacant in the meantime.

held up during the controversy over the McNary appointment.

Disregards Senate Disapproval.

President Harding was determined to give Mr. McNary a recess appointment as controller of the currency regardless of the reflections upon his banking career, as made public by Senator Couzens (Rep., Mich.), chairman of a subcommittee of the senate committee on banking and currency, and the failure of the senate to confirm him. Mr. McNary, however, taking into consideration the fact that his service might be hampered by the cloud resting over him, informed the President that he had concluded not to accept the appointment.

Mr. McNary made public a statement declaring that charges made by Senator Couzens were false in several particulars. He denied accusations relative to excessive loans from his own banks, that he ever speculated in sugar, and that he had told the Michigan senator that he contributed $20,000 to the Republican national campaign fund.

Letter Made Public.

A letter from Mr. McNary to President Harding declining the appointment was made public at the White House.

ment was made public at the White House.

While Mr. Crisinger will not qualify for a few weeks as a member and governor of the federal reserve board until after a successor as controller of the currency has been selected he will continue to serve as an ex officio member of the board in his capacity as controller. Edmund Platt, vice governor, who has been acting governor since last August, when W. P. G. Harding retired, will continue to serve as head of the federal reserve system.

Arrested as Disorderly; Says He's Mark Twain Kin

Mark Twain, 34 years old, 727 North Dearborn street, arraigned yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct, claimed to be a nephew of the author.

"Under the circumstances," remarked Judge Walker, "I cannot believe it." "I am," returned Twain, "I used to ride with him on a steamboat when I was a kid. My parents named me after him." Twain, who had been arrested on a charge of drunkenness, was granted a jury trial.

BETTER COUNCIL THIS YEAR SEEN BY CITIZENS' BODY

With a final appeal to the voters to go to the polls on April 3 and finish the good job they started at the primary, the executive committee of the Better City Council committee announced yesterday that, its purpose having been accomplished, it had disbanded until the next aldermanic election, two years hence.

In its final statement the committee points out results accomplished by the better city council movement, and congratulates the voters upon having sent to the council many aldermen of high caliber. Of forty-six candidates endorsed by the committee, seventeen were elected at the primary and twelve failed to get a majority and have to go to a second election.

Look for Better Council.

"The results of the primary and the prospects offered at the April election," the statement reads, "make it fairly safe to say that there will be a notable improvement in the personnel of the city council."

"This change for the better is not an accident of politics, but has been brought about by persistent publicity and the unselfish patriotic efforts of thousands of voters in various wards, who ordinarily take little interest in politics. To awaken that sleeping giant known as the 'independent vote' was the task of the better council committee."

Budget Only $10,000.

Most of the work done by the committee was of a volunteer nature, the statement says, and the entire budget was only $10,000, a rather insignificant sum as compared to the old time political "barrel." The statement is signed by Clifton R. Bechtel, J. G. Schaefer, Mrs. John R. Bass, Augustus S. Peabody, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, E. O. Griffenhagen, and Dr. M. E. Lorenz.

BIRTH RATE LESS, DEATHS INCREASE, U. S. FIGURES SAY

Washington, D. C., March 5.—A decline in the birth rate and an increase in the death rate during the last nine months of 1922 were shown in provisional census bureau figures made public today by the department of commerce.

The mortality rate ranged from 7.5 in Idaho to 14.3 in Maine, and averaged 11.7 in the states from which statistics were taken for each 1,000 of population in the period, as compared with an 11.6 average in the first nine months of 1921.

Birth ranged from 18.8 per 1,000 of population in the state of Washington to 30 in North Carolina, and averaged 22.8 in the first nine months of 1922, as compared with an average of 25 in the same period in 1921.

Silk Section, Second Floor

The most modern type of Japanese Silk Reeling Machine—which, with its up-to-date improvements, unwinds 100 cocoons in the same length of time it formerly took to unwind 40—is to be seen in full operation this week in our Silk Section.

Little Tokio girls in native costume, operating the machine, show how simple it is to reel a cocoon from its finely meshed filament of cobweb delicateness into one long continuous thread—if you only have their quick eyes and hands.

Men as well as women are interested in watching this fascinating process of Silk Reeling, proved by the attendance yesterday. It is advisable for teachers, planning to bring their pupils to phone the Office of the Juvenile World for special appointments.

BONAR LAW MEETS SECOND DEFEAT WITHIN 3 DAYS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, March 5.—(Tribune Radio.)—A smashing blow was dealt to the Bonar Law government today by the defeat of Minister of Health Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen at the Michiam election. Chuter Ede, a Laborite, won what was considered a "safe" Conservative seat by a majority of 833. In the last election there the Conservative had a majority of 5,836.

This is Sir Arthur's fifth defeat, and since he became a government minister he has been rejected from three constituencies in succession. He resigned from the cabinet tonight. The election was fought on the government's housing control proposals, in which Sir Arthur had the leading cabinet responsibility. Four candidates were in the field. The figures are significant, 13,297 votes being cast against the government and only 7,196 in favor of it.

Second Defeat in Three Days. The result is illustrative of the general public feeling, as it follows Saturday's defeat of the government candidate, Col. G. F. Stanley, undersecretary of the home office, at the Willesden election. Col. Stanley today handed his resignation to the premier.

There is speculation which will now be the next health minister. Two names are mentioned, Col. Leslie Wilson, chief whip of the government, and Neville Chamberlain, the present postmaster general.

A committee representing the United States chamber of commerce of Argentina went to Montevideo to welcome the delegation and returned here with them on the President Hayes. "L" FARES WILL RIDE CUSHIONS AFTER MAY 15

Elevated passengers will begin riding on the cushions shortly after May 15. Latest model cars built upon a special pattern made for Chicago are to go into service as rapidly as delivery can be made of the 105 cars.

This is the announcement made yesterday from the offices of the elevated lines.

Plush seats, mahogany interior finish, and a side lighting system will be features of the new cars. "We are combining in the new cars the very best that can be found in all cars now in operation," one of the elevated officials said.

Observation cars are to be added within the next sixty days to the equipment of the North Shore electric line. It was also announced. More gondola cars for handling freight north of Highland Park are to be placed in commission as rapidly as possible, officials said.

ALIMONY CLUB CHIEF GIVES UP "JAIL STRIKE"

Length of "service" in the county jail in lieu of alimony payments will determine the identity of the new president of the Alimony club, to succeed Joseph Ursprung, 627 York place, whose resignation was accepted yesterday by Judge David in an order releasing him.

Ursprung, a baker, was thrust into the club's presidency six months ago when he refused to pay $400 maintenance money due Mrs. Harriett Ursprung, 109 South Laffin street, from whom he was divorced.

"I can't pay any alimony in jail," argued Ursprung in a hearing yesterday. "Let me out and I will get a job and pay. I have had enough."

WU'S ARMY GAINS GROUND IN CHINA AGAINST DR. SUN

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PEKING, March 5.—The Chinese foreign office has protested to the Italian minister against the selling to Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian warlord, of $5,000,000 worth of machine guns, small arms, and ammunition which Chang is about to ask for delivery at Tientsin and Chingwangtao.

Gen. Wu Pei Fu has become more aggressive in his efforts to bring the Yangtze province into accord with Peking. This accounts for his increasing concentrations at Hunchow and other points. His forces include Chihli and Honan troops. Gen. Wu is sending heavy reinforcements to aid Gen. Yangsen's effort to recover Szechwan for the Peking government. He already has 150,000 troops in the field in Szechwan.

Telegrams from consular agents show the increased progress of troops favorable to Gen. Wu in Kiangsi and Fukien provinces, while Gen. Wu insists that Gen. Shen Hsiang Yin, who recently captured Canton, will become the military governor of Kwantung province.

YARDS BROKERS AND STOCK MEN ARBITRATE FEES

Differences between live stock shippers and commission men at the stock yards went to arbitration yesterday before representatives of the federal government.

In the latter part of the war the commission charged by the commission houses at the yards was increased. Middle west live stock shippers have demanded a reduction. The issue is now being tried before Howard M. Gore and G. N. Daggar of the packers and stock yards administration.

The hearing will probably continue all this week.

Times change... Yesterday, you stood at your grocer's counter and watched him idly as he "scooped out" a pound or two of prunes for you. Today, you merely say, "A 2-lb. carton of Sunsweet Prunes, please!" And off the shelf comes this handy, gold-and-green carton—clean and flavor-fresh as the day it left its orchard-home in California.

For years American housewives have wanted just such a way to buy prunes. That's why the 2-lb. Sunsweet carton is receiving a rousing kitchen welcome the nation over. It is a new-and-better way: more compact; more convenient; keeps the fruit fresh-flavored too! And, more important than all—

This 2-lb. Sunsweet carton insures your getting California's finest prunes every time you buy prunes. No longer need you buy prunes by the "grab bag" method

Today, ask your grocer for this pantry-hand package of prunes. Packed in three sizes of fruit—large, medium, small—but all Sunsweet top-quality. It won't take you long to admit that it's the handiest as well as the healthiest thing in the house.

Dr. Bundesen and his Nokol

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Health Commissioner of the City of Chicago, has owned a Nokol Automatic Oil Heater for about two years (purchased prior to his appointment as Health Commissioner).

The October 21st, 1922, number of the bulletin of the Chicago School of Sanitary Instruction, issued from the Health Commissioner's office, says among other things:

"Within the past five years, however, a new method of home heating has come into use through the development of a mechanical device for successfully using oil as fuel

A properly working oil heating plant with thermostatic control—and admittedly the best of these devices do have thermostatic control—means an automatic, evenly maintained temperature at any desired degree. And what is of still more importance tends to prevent the overheated home no matter what the outside temperature may be

Coal heat, it has been found, will vary from 50 to 80 degrees, even with the most carefully attended plants; and this variation means discomfort and often subsequent illness. As a matter of fact the even temperature which may be maintained by the use of oil heat constitutes one of its most desirable features

Another important factor is cleanliness and a material saving of a lot of dirty, unpleasant labor with a consequent reduction in decorators' bills. The properly constructed oil heater makes no dirt, dust, soot, cinders or ashes; but on the contrary makes for cleanliness, thus promoting healthful living conditions in the home."

Dr. Bundesen is a public official. Rightfully and naturally, he cannot and does not publicly endorse any device. But he does think enough of automatic oil heating to give it official endorsement in the Bulletin published by his office. And he himself owns a Nokol.

The first automatic oil heater—Nokol—was installed five years ago. Today there are over 9000 Nokol owners. To all of them Nokol is giving automatic, clean, even, healthful heat. Nokol burns oil in your own heating plant. The change requires two or three hours at most, and ends your heating troubles forever.

An Equal Chance for All

"It is the love of power in our blood, the blood of conquerors," says William Allen White, that has abolished special privilege and is transforming America so that every man and his children may have an equal chance.

Using Emporia, his home town, as a model, Bill White draws a vivid picture of the great change which is passing over our generation. "Blood of the Conquerors," in this week's Collier's, helps you to know and understand the America you live in.

Because they have tired of sitting passively on the side-lines, millions in America are taking an active interest in the great economic and social problems that press upon their daily lives. They are thinking people, and Collier's is edited to give them in rich variety more of the raw material of thought—accurate information.

CULLERTON AND SEYFERLICH FIX UP PEACE PLAN

May Decrease Number of Retiring Firemen.

Burying the hatchet at a four hour conference with eight assistant marshals yesterday, Fire Chief Seyferlich and Fire Commissioner John F. Cullerton agreed upon the outlines of a plan to rid the fire department of incapacitated members.

Chief Seyferlich broke the ice between himself and Cullerton by calling the meeting of the assistant marshals and inviting the commissioner. Much of the afternoon session, which was held at the drill school, 720 Sober street, was taken up with discussion of the effect the retirement of 250 men, the number estimated by the commissioner to be incapacitated, would have on the firemen's pension fund.

When this line of argument threatened to develop into a deadlock, it was put aside by the chief and the assistant marshals on the theory that the number which it will be found necessary to retire will not be as large as the commissioner had estimated, and will not be sufficient to wipe out the fund in the near future.

The chief's insistence that an arbitrary order sending 250 men to the drill school without careful investigation would be "taking snap judgment" led to the formulation of the following plan:

Chief Seyferlich will receive the recommendations of Commissioner Cullerton as to the men who are to be sent to the drill school and to the city physician. Recommendations will also be received from the assistant marshals and battalion chiefs.

Combine Both Lists.

Both lists of men recommended for retirement will be combined by Chief Seyferlich, and the men ordered to the drill school. If they are found unfit to perform active fire duty they will be sent to the city physician for examination, and later, if they refuse to accept pensions, ordered before the trial board—the only other legal method of getting rid of them.

"I want to make sure that every man has an even break," Chief Seyferlich said. "Every man will have the chance the law gives him. If he can prove his fitness, he will stay. If he can't, he will have to go. No snap judgment will be taken, however."

At first the assistant marshals were insistent that Commissioner Cullerton, as a civilian member of the department, should have nothing to do with recommendations for retirement except in the case of engineers, who have charge of the departmental apparatus.

LUNDIN BOARD ASKS CRITICISM; GETS AVALANCHE

Citizens Want to Know Reason for Wilk.

The Lundin-Thompson board of education yesterday invited public criticism and got it. More than a dozen civic organizations sent representatives in response to an invitation to take part in the financial committee's final wrangle over the budget.

The fight centered around the board's recent appointment of Louis Wilk, former city hall politician of one year's experience with the board, to the position of acting business manager at a salary of $10,000 a year.

They Want to Know Why. "Upon what did the board base this $5,500 raise in salary?" That question from H. C. Dana, president of the Oakland Business Men's association, started the ball rolling.

"When a man of one year's experience is appointed to follow a man of fifty-two years' training at a salary almost twice that of the predecessor, it certainly challenges the attention of public organizations," remarked Mrs. H. N. Rose, vice president of the Chicago Woman's club.

"I always opposed the appointment," said Hart Hanson, "but maybe some of the members who voted for it will explain it."

J. Lewis Coath, who also voted against it, remarked he would like to see a system whereby "the handing out of political plums at the expense of school children would be abolished."

Dr. Adair Defends Vote. Mrs. Johanna Gregg and Dr. Sadie Bay Adair, who helped "promote" Mr. Wilk, defended the action vigorously.

"I wasn't here," said Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the board. "No; you sidestepped," snapped Dr. Adair.

Angry clear through, Dr. Robertson came to his feet in an instant.

Denies He Sidestepped. "I did not sidestep," he cried. "I never sidestepped in my life. I never was for Wilk and I would have voted against him if I had not been called to Washington to testify before a committee of congress. Anyway, the appointment was only temporary. It must be permanently made in sixty days, and by that time I expect a high caliber business man will be found for the job."

The committee voted finally to stand by the $52,000,000 draft in its recommendation to the board, which will consider the budget tomorrow.

JEWELERS SUE FOR ENGAGEMENT RING OF DANCER

Dissolution of the sixty day romance of Miss Gladys Hight, society dancing instructor, and John I. Winecke, advertising man, is seen in a replevin suit filed in the Municipal court yesterday by Klein & Co., Madison street jewelers, to recover the dancer's $300 diamond engagement ring, which they assert remains unpaid for.

Confirmation of the rumored estrangement was refused by Mrs. Winecke, who declared that the matter had been placed in the hands of her attorney, Murphy O. Tate. He is also a defendant in the suit with Winecke.

"To the Advantage of Consumers and the Public"

A court in Wisconsin declared recently that "the marketing policies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) work to the advantage of consumers and the public."

The LaFollette investigating committee in Washington brought out facts which proved the same thing.

The investigation of this Committee developed, we believe, just why the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been uniformly successful, and why it has within the comparatively few years of its existence contributed so materially to our national prosperity—more particularly the prosperity in the Middle West.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) attributes its success primarily to the fact that it earnestly desires to render the public a complete cycle of essential service, from oil well to refinery, to the consumer.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a large retailer of its own products. It maintains for this purpose a distribution system which for size, thoroughness, and efficiency is unequalled in the world. It maintains and expands its business solely on a basis of quality and service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has steadfastly maintained the policy of minimizing the spread between manufacturing costs and retail selling prices. This has meant, and means today a low price for gasoline and other petroleum products as compared with other essential commodities. A glance through any Department of Labor Bulletin featuring comparative prices for necessities will demonstrate this fact.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its success. It believes that its methods are exceptionally efficient. It believes that in many instances they have been a valuable contribution to the country's economic progress. It believes that the Company's activities redound to the advantage of the consumer and the public.

Too-Late-Yes Forget

*That Was Yesterday—Look at Today,
Remember Before It Is "TOO LATE"*

"Too Late"—The train had gone—"Too Late"—Somebody else had got the order—"Too late"—Your Sweetheart would not wait any longer—"Too late"—Your wife had listened to your promises too many times before—"Too late"—Your Mother grown old, her spirit had fled to the other world before you arrived for that long postponed visit.

"Too Late"—These are fearful words—Yet, in our sluggishness we do not know their real meaning and then comes regret.

Big opportunities have come and gone and none realized because you were "Too late"—How much better things would have been had you not been "Too late"!

But let's forget the past—TODAY is the watchword though a thousand opportunities have been neglected before.

Today has its opportunity, and a big one in Piggly Wiggly Class "A" Stock at $55.00 per share to the real investing public—for this is not the price for the "Gambler" or the "Speculator."

The President of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., wants 20,000 stockholders as his partners in this business—real honest to goodness partners that will help through their good will and patronage to make Piggly Wiggly the greatest and best merchandising Organization in the world, and this is what it is to be, but which it would not be if controlled by the gambling or speculative clique who buy and sell stock merely for profit on market manipulations while the public puts up the cash. It is to prevent anything like this happening to PIGGLY WIGGLY that this stock is offered to the public at the low price of $55.00 per share to be paid for on the partial payment plan or all cash if desired.

1 Share—5 Shares—100 Shares, all at the same price of $55.00 per share.

Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., has no bonded debt—No Preferred stock ahead of this Class A Stock. This stock is the highest class stock outstanding in the Company—there is no stock ahead of it in either dividends or assets and none on a par with it. It is the kind of stock to buy in any business that is to have a big future, for if big earnings are realized they go first to this kind of stock whereas many other classes of stock get what is left after bonds—preferred stock and even more get their profit first and many is the time when no profit is left for the lower grades of stock—and remember, too, when your money is in a bond or preferred stock, it is usually limited to a certain fixed percentage of profit.

It is not by any means the present dividend rate that is being paid on Piggly Wiggly Class A Stock, which equals more than 7% on the price of $55 per share, which is to be considered, but it is that big profit that is bound to come in the greater value of the stock and its corresponding increase in the dividend rate if Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., continues its present rate of progress, and surely this will be a fact.

When you buy this stock you will be a partner in a business that you can see every day for yourself as you can go to the principal cities and towns throughout the country and there see some of your property if you are the owner of some of this stock. These stores will be your very own in partnership with the President of the Company and the thousands of other stockholders.

This is a National business and one not dependent upon purely local conditions as may be found in a particular city at a particular time.

This is a business that deals in Food—so whether good times or bad there must be business in Food. Could any kind of business have a better foundation for "Safety"?

"For Cash" is the way Piggly Wiggly business is handled with no delivery costs.

It is operated on a particular Self-Service plan that is absolutely distinctive for cleanliness and for economy in operation.

No distribution system for Food products has ever been on such a comprehensive plan for well organized effort to build a great business.

Compare the record of Piggly Wiggly Stores with the early record of any other NOW big business, and if you have in your mind any sense at all you will not fail to see that the record of Piggly Wiggly far exceeds the record of the others.

TODAY Is Your Opportunity!

CLASS "A" COMMON STOCK of PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES, Inc.

$55.00 Per Share!

$55.00 Per Share!

Partial Payment Plan or All Cash if Desired!

This is a voting stock. Is preferred as to dividends. Is cumulative as to dividends—now paying $1.00 per share quarterly, which is more than 7% on the price of $55 per share. Dividend dates are March 1st, June 1st, September 1st and December 1st. This stock is traded in on both the New York and Chicago Stock Exchanges. Is good collateral for a bank loan.

PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES, INC., has no bonded debt—no preferred stock ahead of this Class "A" Stock, either in dividends or assets.

PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES now operating in 41 States and Canada—1,241 stores now the total—located in 388 towns and cities.

PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES, INC., owns and operates 659 of these stores located in the principal towns and cities of the country.

It is not only the present 7% profit that the stockholder in PIGGLY WIGGLY will get for his money—there is bound to come that enhancement in the value of the stock that is due to follow the expansion and growth of this business, and with it will come, as a natural sequence, a larger dividend rate.

The sales of this Company for the last quarter of 1922 amounted to almost $11,000,000.00, and for December to practically $4,000,000.00, and for the present quarter are expected to reach $12,000,000.00—and with the plans for expansion during the present year sales should exceed $60,000,000.00 and possibly will exceed $75,000,000.00.

The Net Earnings for the last quarter of 1922 exceeded $315,000.00, and it is expected that these figures will be exceeded for the first quarter of 1923. At this rate the quarterly dividend requirements of $1.00 per share will be earned by more than 50 per cent on our present 200,000 shares of outstanding Class "A" Common Stock, and with the expansion plans of this company that are to be acted upon during the present year these earnings should be materially larger.

This company also operates Variety Stores in Memphis, Tenn., Chicago, Ill., Norfolk, Va., Nashville, Tenn., Chattanooga, Tenn., and Terre Haute, Ind. These stores are extremely profitable and many more will be established during the present year.

It is desired that wide distribution be had on this block of stock, and that this may be accomplished arrangements have been perfected so that this stock may be paid for on a partial payment plan upon the basis of $25.00 cash per share, and three notes at the rate of $10.00 per share, due June 1st, Sept. 1st and Dec. 1st. This means you will receive more than 7% on the entire investment and pay 6% on the balance as represented by notes of $30.00 per share. If desired cash may be paid in full for the stock.

Piggly Wiggly is not the old fashioned kind of grocery store—it's up-to-date—the store of progress, and of course there are imitations—that in itself proves the worth of the Piggly Wiggly System, but imitators are like all fakes—they haven't the true ring like the original and besides, all history, practically, records success for the Original and failure for the Snoopy, Oozle-Spined Creature whose avocation is pussy-footing around the brain workings of an originator—the imitator is like this—who will do him honor?

YOUR OPPORTUNITY IS NOW. "TOO LATE" MAY BE WHAT YOU WILL HAVE TO REMEMBER IF YOU WAIT—"TOO LATE" IS SOMETHING THAT YOU NEVER SEE OR KNOW TILL IT IS "TOO LATE"

The whole-hearted family demands the Perfect Piano

It is delightful and satisfying to know that in one of our most intimate possessions, one that becomes more cherished each year, we find the comfort, entertainment, and inspiration of music.

This instrument is the sum of the most modern ideas in piano manufacture. Fathered by over 58 years of experience in serving the requirements of the music-loving public, it possesses nice refinements which awaken the enthusiasm of all who view it. Graceful, distinctive in line, it encompasses in dainty form the rich, glowing voice which has been so long associated with the grand piano.

The grand has always been held in highest esteem. It is the acknowledged supreme form of the piano. It fills the eye with its charm of architecture. It is as gracious as an old-world gentlewoman. In the room which claims it, it brings an atmosphere of culture and of breeding. Unobtrusively, it gives character to its surroundings.

LYON & HEALY APARTMENT GRAND

"Sings under the fingers"—thus they have epitomized the voice of the Apartment Grand. The lightest touch on the keys summons full-flavored notes, so responsive is the action. From a tremulous arpeggio of elfin, treble notes to a resounding crescendo in the bass, each is distinctive, rich, and colorful. The technically-minded realize at once upon hearing it, that more than mere ingenuity has gone into the construction of the piano. To attain such a union of beauty of tone and case requires the unflagging attention to details.

Generally speaking, one has little by which to identify and evaluate pianos. It is here that the Apartment Grand stands forth. It possesses features found on no other instrument.

Chief among them is the Junior Unfolding Two-level Pedal. Welcomed by such masters of the keyboard as Rachmaninoff, Grainger, Bauer, Godowsky, it in their minds answers a long felt need.

To defer the use of the pedal is to defer progress in piano playing. Familiarity with it should begin with the first introduction to the keys. The Junior Unfolding Pedal gives tone control to children.

Another feature of the Apartment Grand is the Silento. This is a very ingenious device which enables one to control the volume of tone. By the manipulation of a small lever, one immediately diminishes the tone.

Again, in the introduction of the Can-delectra is shown the progressive spirit which completes the Apartment Grand. It is a set of twin electric lamps in beautiful woods or metal, which remove an old time inconvenience—difficulty in reading music on a darkened desk.

The Apartment Grand occupies but little more space than an upright. This is all made clear by means of one of our floor patterns. It shows just how much space is required. With its reproduction of the keyboard in natural colors, it is of great assistance. You can experiment in your home and find in advance just the spot to place the instrument. Women are delighted with it.

The new models are beautiful examples of Chippendale and Sheraton Period Designs. They are exquisitely finished in a choice of mahogany, oak or walnut. There are three sizes, 5 feet 2 inches, 5 feet 6 inches and 5 feet 10 inches.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER. Never Again!

Black Circ Ribbon Binds This Youthful Model

by Mary Eleanor Howell

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Almost all garments today hail from the state of being bound, the only one that remains distinctly in memory from childhood's geography. Borders declare themselves passionately. There aren't so many as in the geography. Let us be thankful.

Here a youthful gray self-determines itself with black circ ribbon. The slight collar leaps without warning into the bust of revers, abetted and outlined in black, then goes over to the left of the convention, where it joins a belt band, already in deep conference with two hands from the skirt, with a captured plaiting between them. This fan plaiting declares for larger freedom of movement of the skirt.

The hat of gray Milan, smartly trimmed with black and white taffeta ribbon, is but one manifesto of many that could be made in a millinery way with such a dress.

Knock about frocks were never more graceful or in better taste. A clear line is drawn between dresses for street, sports, semi-dresses, and formal evening wear. Not only in fabric, trimming, and general line, but in way of interpreting the line. Light or dark colors don't matter any more. Some street gowns are lighter, by far, than some party gowns. The latter come in old fashioned mahogany and similar colorings oftentimes, whereas pale gray, light tan, and pinky beige are prominent in daytime and even sports clothes.

Sunday fashion page will be found in the New Color Section.

MEN'S FASHIONS.

Jewelry in Moderation.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Being well dressed does not depend upon how much money one spends upon one's wardrobe. For that which costs the most is jewelry, and jewelry in moderation is the secret of refinement in a man's dress. Any moderately income man can be well dressed and spend little upon the way, and I mean links for use with evening clothes. With full dress, links and studs may be pearls, or combinations of precious stones, small, or as simple as mother of pearl, which is within the reach of every one, and just as smart. With tuxedo these same are possible, or enameled designs, black enamel being especially popular. Black mother of pearl is also effective and popular.

For informal daytime wear, pearl, mother of pearl, gold, or colored enamel links are used. The latter are procurable in various colors, and are becoming popular as an addition to the color scheme of a costume. Some men like to match the cuff links to the color of the shirt.

Cravat pins are worn mostly with ascot ties, and are modest. The large solitaire is out of fashion with careful conservative dress. Watches are divided between the wrist and the pocket variety. With the latter, watch chains are best not seen with evening clothes. But otherwise they may or may not, according to the fancy of the wearer. But the tendency is always towards the simplest effect. The cut of a suit is more important than whether one has a diamond or so on.

Jeweled accessories. Jewelry must be inconspicuous, even for dress wear. The only exception is cigarette cases, which may be as elaborate as desired in the evening. In the daytime the smart case is of leather, rather than gold or silver.

Crowds Battle to See Miss Norton and 'Sonny' Whitney Wed

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] PARIS, March 5.—While the Rev. Mr. Beekman, church officials, and hired wedding ceremony employes battled to bar newspaper men, photographers, and the curious public, a handful of the chosen few dodged through the swaying and jangling crowd into the Holy Trinity church, where they witnessed the wedding of Cornelius Vanderbilt (Sonny) Whitney and Miss Marie Norton this afternoon.

The affair was most simple, the bride arriving at 3:30 accompanied by her mother. She was highly nervous on alighting from her limousine and seemed considerably scared at seeing the strong arm of the church authorities, who were shouldering the crowd away.

Inside the church she regained her composure and posed resignedly for the photographers who had paid for the privilege of having exclusive photographs.

After ordering his aide to "throw them out," the Rev. Mr. Beekman rushed inside the church, arriving in time to reach the pulpit as the organ began to play and the bridal party started down the aisle.

The small, dark, colony-besed bundles of rice tied in ribbons and murmured well wishes as the newlyweds escaped out a side door on their honeymoon.

The civil service—French law requires a civil service, the religious rites being optional—was performed at noon in the "mairie" of the First arrondissement.

The bride wore a Jenny gown of white crepe georgette and satin made on medieval lines with glistering pearls and crystal embroidery. The maids of honor wore Frances Norton and Barbara Whitney, clad alike in frocks of heavy crinkled bois de rose silk with perfectly straight lines. The bride was given away by her mother and Harry Payne Whitney was best man.

The couple will honeymoon in Italy and will return to Paris later. They will sail for New York on April 1 for the beginning of a trip around the world.

Young Whitney has been abroad since Evan Fontaine, the dancer, started her unsuccessful suit against him for $1,000,000 for breach of promise, alleging he is the father of her child.

The Lakeside Press Employees' association will give its third annual show, "Beauty and Business," at the Aryan Croto theater Friday and Saturday nights. The show was written by a member of the association, George Imbach, and is being produced by George Bainbridge.

Entertainment for Blind. The joint committee of Lincoln lodge of the Council of Jewish Women will give its sixth musical entertainment at the Home for the Blind this evening at 8 o'clock. All blind persons are invited.

Pianist Wins High Favor at Recital of Musicians' Club

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It was a gracious act of the Musicians' Club of Women to have engaged an attraction for its artist's recital at the Blackstone theater yesterday afternoon on the ground of merit rather than box office value. More than that, it is an encouraging symptom for the cause of American music that talent should be thus recognized. It was courageous; it is pretty nearly unique in method.

Stell Andersen, pianist, was the attraction, up to yesterday unknown by that name if not in person. Information was given me just before her recital that she used to be known as Cora Andersen. As such, she gave at least two recitals in this city four or five years ago.

The important matter is that under whatever name she is now, she is an accomplished. She has hands for the keyboard of the piano and brains for its music. In Bach as revealed by Busoni—the D minor, twenty-four fugue—in a group of Chopin, in such modernism as is displayed by Debussy and Scriabin, with Grieg and Liszt added for good measure, she displayed the ability to perform and the personality to vitalize, and all certainly and easily. There are signs that Miss Andersen is to have a future.

The important matter is that under whatever name she is now, she is an accomplished. She has hands

Hog prices yesterday figured at an average of $8.25, the highest since January, while extreme top price at $8.55 stands highest since Feb. 16. Values advanced largely 15c above Saturday, with general price range narrower. Yards traders, shippers, and small packers purchased freely, leaving very few of the 10,000 carried over in first hands. Large packers fought the advance, being supplied for an early slaughter by the liberal "direct" received from outside markets, resulting in a top heavy closing trade. The Armour houses were practically out of the trade, while Swift and Hammond combined absorbed less than 1,500 head. Shippers secured 10,000, outside demand favoring the fancy lights, averaging 130@175 lbs; that topped the day's market.

On a dull and weak to 15c lower cattle trade yesterday, top lowered 15c under previous Monday at $10.00, being lowest top price for initial day of any week since last July. Weighty stock reflected the most discount, selling largely 10c 15c under close of last week and 25c@40c lower than Thursday. The $10.00 steers and yearlings ranged in weight from 1,047 lbs to 1,621 lbs. Bulk of steers brought $7.00@9.75. Butcher stock sold most steadily during the early rounds, but closed weak, prices tending lower in sympathy with other classes. Calves moved slowly, weak to 15c lower. Stockers and feeders were unchanged.

Colorado Lambs, $15.25.
About 10 cars of 80@90 lb woolled "col-lies" reached the top price yesterday at $15.25, with bulk selling downward to $14.75. Strong to 25c higher prices met a moderate supply, in-between natives regaining last week's decline. Handy recent shorn lambs brought $11.50@12.75, and weighty kinds, $10.50@11.00; clipped 25 lb yearlings, $10.50; 110 lb wethers, $7.75 and 110 lb ewes, $6.50. Light woolled ewes ranged upward to $3.50 in small lots. Shearing lambs moved largely at $15.10@15.25.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 50,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, against 11,328 cattle, 23,741 hogs, and 22,993 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

Where Life Passes By

LIED to the ocean bottom on a giant cable, ceaselessly pounding against the heavy Atlantic seas and diving into the troughs of mounting waves, a lightship rides at anchor in midocean, the farthest outpost of American dominion.

Transatlantic steamers reach it long before land is sighted. Year in and year out it serves as a beacon to mariners. For forty years uninterruptedly—except six weeks during the war when it was withdrawn and a week in 1906 when it was sunk—this little vessel has maintained its service to mankind.

What of the men who pass their days in the rocking lightship cabin?

These twelve men live in solitude, for the most part under battened hatches. If they read a well-thumbed book, it may be a book they have read one year—five years—before. They play cards. They fish. They watch the far-off, grey horizons. Once a month the lighthouse tender brings them food and mail. What have these men to look forward to?

One of them is a Straus investor. Regularly, for many years, the tender has carried his hard won money to the office of S. W. Straus & Co. He has been building for the future, even while life has been passing him by. In his old age, on his return to shore, he will have a comfortable fortune.

We are proud of this customer, as we are of others like him. In our own way, we are maintaining a lightship for the investment public—the record of the Straus Organization—Forty-One Years Without Loss to Any Investor. This record is an unfaltering beacon, for anyone in any station of life who wishes to hold steadily on the course of thrift and safety.

Safeguarding Your Income

Unless investors are constantly in touch with financial affairs, there is always the possibility of impairment of income, even when investments are confined to obligations of the most conservative character. As an instance may be cited the calling of U. S. Victory 4½% Notes, Series A, B, C, E, and F, on December 15th last, with cessation of interest thereafter. A considerable number of these bonds have not been turned in—with resulting loss of income to holders.

Careful investors can usually prevent such contingencies by arranging for frequent revision of holdings. In this connection we offer our services at all times to individual investors or institutions.

What Are These Bonds That Pay 7%?

A MAN came into our office the other day and told us that he was interested in first mortgage real estate bonds, especially because of their liberal interest rate and fine safety record. "But," he said, "I really don't know much about these bonds, how they are made, what special safeguards surround them, what the function of the banker is with regard to them. Frankly, I want to know their fine points, their innermost workings, before I invest."

We have published a booklet which was written to supply just the information which this investor demanded. Because we wanted to convey a clear and complete understanding of real estate bonds, this booklet deals with the "inside story" of these securities, giving details which the average outsider would probably never think of. And because we wanted the booklet to be read, we wrote it in as interesting, conversational style as we could command, and supplied illustrations. A number of newspapers have already published the material in this booklet, by arrangement with us. The coupon will bring to you, free and without obligation, a copy of "The Premier Investment."

GRAINS SWING TO HIGH FINISH; WHEAT UP 1-2c

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

An overcast condition was disclosed in wheat and while prices were slightly lower early, there was no liquidation of consequence. Short covering and spreading between Chicago and Minneapolis at the market a strong upward movement at the outside figure Friday and closed within a fraction of the top with net gains of 1/2c to 3/4c. Leading corn was 1/2c higher, with oats up 1/4c, and rye 1/4c higher. There was materially less pressure on wheat than expected. Trade was slow early, awaiting the issuance of the Snow-Bell-Frazier report on farm reserves, which showed 152,000,000 bu. compared with 154,000,000 bu. last year. This was less than expected. Houses with wheat had connections were good buyers and it developed that the surplus had been taken off the market.

Basis Affect the July.

Further rains were reported in the northwest, with the largest portion during the day, and getting moisture was very dry as compared with the normal. The Chicago market was very active, with the market a strong upward movement at the outside figure Friday and closed within a fraction of the top with net gains of 1/2c to 3/4c. Leading corn was 1/2c higher, with oats up 1/4c, and rye 1/4c higher. There was materially less pressure on wheat than expected. Germany Gets Russian Rye.

Rye broke 1/4c in the early trading on stop loss selling, due to reports of shipments of Russian rye to Germany, but the market became overbought and with buying by local shorts and foreign connections, local shorts were forced to cover, making a sharp advance. The two northwestern markets followed in the same direction. Investment buying of rail and stock combined with the strength in pigs, corn and wheat, and an advance of 1/2c in the northwest made a sharply higher range for provisions. Prices follow:
